Police Listing

Police Officers are now engaged in taking the Decennial Census, which will include the listing of all residents 20 years of age or over for the voting lists and poll tax lists.

This work necessitates a call at every home in the city by a Police Officer. An announcement of the plans for taking the census will be left at every home with a blank census card, in advance of the Police Officer's census call, and the head of every family is requested to have the card filled out and ready for the Police Officer when he calls. It is hoped by this method more accurate information will be obtained and with a greater saving of time than would be the case if the householder did not have the information prepared when the Police Officer called, and it was necessary to secure it from a person temporarily in charge of a home.

Full instructions are printed on the Census Cards, and all householders are asked to cooperate with the Police Officers in this important work by having them properly filled out.

JOIN THE MARCH OF DIMES

JANUARY 14-31

Last summer America experienced the second worst epidemic of infantile paralysis in its history.

The disease attacked weak and strong alike, invading the richest and poorest homes in the nation.

Your dimes and dollars, supporting The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, made it possible to render expert care and treatment to all polio victims, regardless of age, race, creed or color.

Many of these thousands of new victims will need care for months, years, some perhaps for a lifetime.

Next summer America must be prepared to meet whatever epidemic emergencies may arise.

Sgt. Paul Anders, Dies in England

Word was received last week of the death of Sgt. Paul W. Anders, 26, husband of Mrs. Barbara S. (Stinson) Anders of 49 Langley road, Newton Centre, and son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Webster Anders of Kew Gardens, Long Island, New York, formerly of West Newton.

Sgt. Anders died at a hospital in England on December 7 of wounds received while serving with an Infantry Division of the Ninth Army in France on October 7.

He was graduated from the Newton High School in 1936 and from the Bryant and Stratton Commercial School of Boston. He entered the Army February 29, 1942 and trained at Fort Meade, Maryland.

Besides his wife he is survived by an infant daughter, Barbara Carroll, born on October 20 last, his parents and one sister, Miss Arlene Anders.

Ensign Railsback On Way Home

Ensign Edward Neal Railsback, Damage Control Officer and First Lieutenant on the U.S.S. Ward, is on the way home from the Pacific area on a 30 day survival leave, according to word received by his family. The Ward, in supporting the landings at Ormoc in the Philippines, Dec. 7th was hit by aerial torpedoes and had to be abandoned and sunk. All members of the crew were saved but their personal belongings were lost.

The U.S.S. Ward, a destroyer-transport, fired the first shot in World War 2, sinking a submarine on December 7, 1941, according to news recently released by Time Magazine. The ship had had a valiant career.

Ensign Railsback has been in the Pacific for 14 months and has seen much action. His ship landed the first troops in the October invasion of the Philippines.

Ensign Railsback, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest P. Railsback, of Newtonville, is a graduate of the Newton High School and of Harvard University, class of 1938. He was married to Barbara Shepherd Varney of Rochester, New Hampshire, in August 1938 and their home is at 8 Ingersoll road, Wellesley. Mrs. Railsback and their 3-year-old son, Alan Neal, are with her parents in Rochester for the duration.

MAYOR GODDARD opens March of Dimes Drive in Newton. Left, Thomas V. Cleveland, Newton chairman of the drive.

Annual Infantile Paralysis Drive Starts January 14th

The Twelfth Annual Infantile Paralysis appeal for funds begins January 14 and ends January 31. Thomas V. Cleveland, Newton Chairman, is enthusiastic about the City of Newton's taking this worthy appeal to its heart and substantially increasing its contribution of last year. In 1942 $52,705 was raised in Middlesex County. Of this amount Newton raised $3,400. This relatively poor showing for a city the size of Newton was partially due to the fact that the Chairman and Committee were not appointed until practically the start of the drive.

One-half of all funds raised are sent to the National Foundation in New York to provide funds for research and study in seventy-two hospitals and Colleges throughout the Country. Through this research it is attempting to seek out and remove the means of spread; to overcome the obstacles to prevention; to provide adequate treatment for every patient in every part of the Country. While Infantile Paralysis has never been a serious disease in armed troops, the threat has always been present.

Today, this threat has been increased by the mobilization of large numbers of persons twenty years of age and under. These are still dangerously near the period of great susceptibility. It is the task of the National Foundation to see that the heavy burdens placed on a Nation by this war shall not be increased by preventable crippling from this disease, occurring either in the armed forces or the civilian population. The National Foundation has financed the work of Miss Kenney in testing and evaluating her method at the University of Minnesota. Later, an additional grant was made for the instruction and training of 900 doctors and nurses and physical therapy technicians in the Kenney method at this one centre. Other grants have been made to conduct these special courses at other institutions.

The other half of the funds raised remains here in Middlesex County to render direct aid to needy victims in the territory who are afflicted with Infantile Paralysis. There are no distinctions based on age, race, creed, or color. This aid includes medical, surgical, nursing, physical therapy and hospital care, as well as the furnishing of orthopedic appliances, transportation.

Aldermen Re-elect Colby City Treasurer

The Newton Board of Aldermen at their first meeting of the year on Tuesday night re-elected Clarence C. Colby as city treasurer and collector and authorized him to borrow in anticipation of revenue for 1945, a sum or sums not exceeding $5,443,000, to provide for expenses of the city government until the money is raised by taxation or other sources.

The sum of $75,000 was appropriated by the Board to cover the cost that may be needed for snow removal before the city budget is passed. At a special meeting on Friday night the Board appropriated $20,000 to cover the cost of snow removal and sanding necessitated by the recent storm.

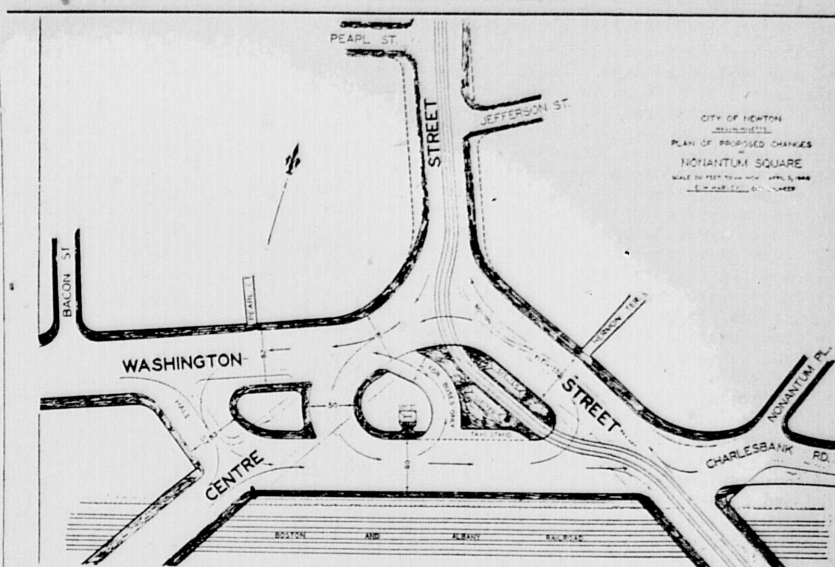

The Board also voted to authorize Mayor Paul M. Goddard to donate $2,000 of the amount received by the city from the paper salvage campaign to the Citizens' Committee for Service to Newton Service Men. As the salvage is collected by the city the proceeds go into the city treasury and in order to donate part of it to the Citizens' Committee formal action on the same must be taken by the mayor and Board of Aldermen.

The reappointment of John W. Murphy as chairman of the Board of Assessors for a term of three years was submitted to the Board by Mayor Paul M. Goddard.

Other appropriations made by the Board as requested by Mayor Goddard, which could not be delayed until the budget is passed, were $2,000 for temporary clerks in the Assessing Department; $2,400 for temporary clerks in the City Clerk's Department; $200 for care of City Hall and $100 for care of Police Headquarters; $1,995 for nutrition services in the Health Department; $1,589.50 for workmen's compensation in the Water Department; $3,001 for pumping station salaries and $1,144 for temporary clerk in Water Department.

The bonus paid last year was 12 per cent. The 'ceiling' imposed last year was $250, but the Board increased the amount to $300. Regardless of the salaries (Continued on Page 2)

Post-War Improvements For Newton Corner

Mayor Goddard Urges Support of Infantile Paralysis Campaign

To the Citizens of Newton: I know of no work for the relief of suffering in this country which is of greater importance than that of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. We must marshal all the scientific resources at our command to fight this dread disease which strikes so mercilessly at our youthful citizens, and this means that financial support is needed from all of us.

We can be very thankful that the National Foundation has been so well organized to combat this terrible hidden and mysterious enemy. This Foundation carries on with increasing intensity and devotion each successive year. Newton never fails such a call, and it will not fail now. Let's take our place in the ranks and march along with our dimes, and with our dollars.

Newton Paper Drive Sunday

A goal of 780,000 lbs. of waste paper or 100 lbs. for each of the 7800 members of the Armed Services from Newton, has been set for the Waste Paper Salvage Drive which started in Newton this week.

In co-operation with civic organizations and government agencies in the city, 500 teachers and 11,000 school children are working to make this drive a success.

Homes, stores and offices in the city are being canvassed each day and on Sunday, January 7, city trucks and other vehicles donated for this purpose by their owners will make a city-wide collection.

Street Commissioner John D. Haughey, chairman of the Newton Salvage Committee is in charge of the drive. Dr. Homer W. Anderson, superintendent of schools, has mobilized all teachers and pupils in the campaign and instructions have been given in classrooms on the great need of scrap paper for war requirements.

By PAUL CONSIDINE

Anticipating the rapidly approaching changes and adjustments that will be necessary if Newton's transfer point, Nonantum Square, is to keep up with the modern tempo of a post-war world, Aldermen Theodore R. Lockwood and associate aldermen from Ward 1, Frank Schofield and Warner Eastis, with the unanimous approval of Aldermen John Barwise, Donald Gibbs and James Atkins of Ward 1, have put before the Mayor and the Board of Aldermen a plan of proposed changes in the Square that promises to revitalize the former trading center of the city.

Although discussions for the necessary improvements in Nonantum Square have been going on, sporadically, for 25 years or more, no action has ever been taken on any of the solutions offered to stem the steadily deteriorating Square until now. The Aldermen respond (Continued on Page 8)

MORALE BUILDERS

This week the Graphic publishes the first of a series of 10 full-page editorial messages. These messages are designed to bring home to every one in the community the fact that the war is still far from over, and that only by bending every effort can we possibly shorten this conflict or make final victory a certainty. One of the prime purposes of the message is to make the war worker, and others as well, realize that this is a battle to the finish and that every bit of our energy, our ingenuity, and our courage are still required if this war is to come to the end that we desire. Whether we like it or not the fact remains that no war is over until the enemy is completely vanquished. This is yet far from accomplished as any man who has been on the fighting fronts can tell you. There is still a long, hard, struggle ahead, and the people here at home, far removed from the bloody scenes of death, and deprivation and sacrifice must constantly be made aware of such facts.

Yes, we have done a good job, so far, everyone concerned, and Newton has perhaps done as well if not better than most, but there is always a tendency to let down and such tendencies must be eliminated through education of the people in vital positions. There is no other way.

It is gratifying to the Graphic that so many of the industrial and financial institutions in this area have realized the importance of this campaign as is denoted by its sponsorship. The people responsible in these companies for their participation are doing a vital and patriotic service, which we know will be helpful to their organizations as well as to the efforts of all in this all out struggle for Democracy. They have shown that they definitely realize that the man at the front is entitled to every backing by the men and women at home. Truly, in this effort which means so much to our war morale they are the blazers of the way.

All Newton Music School Receives Accounts of Ambulance

The driver of the All Newton Music School ambulance has written several very interesting letters telling about his activities in the European Theatre of the War. One received just before Christmas reads as follows:

Germany 12-10-1944
Dear Mrs. Worth:
Received your most welcome letter today and I am very glad that you are trying to get a name for the ambulance for we want your school to name it. You see, the ambulance has gone a long way now. I got it in England, then I took it to France, then to Belgium, then Holland, then into Germany and I am hoping to take it back home after the war. I am very glad that you like me for the driver of your ambulance and I will do my best to keep it in good shape. It has been combat and we are in the Ninth Army and hoping to keep going ahead. You get the name for her and I'll send you a picture.

Sincerely yours,
(Signed) Lloyd E. Pargait
Within a week, another letter came which reads:
Dear Mrs. Worth:
I had to write you another letter for I forgot to wish you and all the rest a very, very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year from me and the ambulance. I hope that all of you had a very good time and maybe next year we may all have a real good one. I think we will have a nice one over here for we can go to church over here on the front lines. The church goes with us every where we go. So have a good time and on New Year's make a good wish for the New Year.

Sincerely yours,
Lloyd E. Pargait

Politics With Color

Abolition of Presidential Primary

Acting on the request of Town Clerk Arthur J. Shimmers of Brookline and Town Clerk George V. Wellman of Watertown, Senator Richard S. Bowers of Brookline has filed a bill in the General Court providing for the abolition of the much-discussed Presidential Primary. This primary has become more or less of a joke in recent years. Four years ago a measly 8% of the registered voters in this state took the trouble to cast their votes in this primary. In 1944 the situation was even worse; only 4% bothered to vote. The cost to the state was $80,000.00 and the cost to the cities and towns an additional $20,000.00. That is too much money to spend in times like these unless you are accomplishing something worth-while.

This bill provides that Delegates at large and their alternates shall be chosen by the State Committee and that the Congressional District delegate shall be chosen by Congressional District Conventions, whose membership shall be composed of delegates chosen by Ward and Town Committees throughout the state. There is quite a bit more, but that covers the most important part of the bill as your columnist sees it.

The first reaction from a well-informed observer which I have noted was that of Bill Mullins, the Herald political expert. Mullins appears to doubt that this bill will be enacted, or, if it is enacted, that it will be signed by Governor Tobin. His opinion is entitled to serious consideration, but that is all. He winds up a long article as follows:—"I do not like to be deprived of my existing right to engage in the election of those who now represent me in any capacity." My hunch is that the opponents of this new bill have persuaded Bill Mullins to "sound-off" along these lines and see what happens. Incidentally, the Herald expert has a lot to say about the "Write-In" Ballot Law, which is part and parcel of the Presidential Primary law. He points out a fact unknown to many and forgotten by many more, namely, that this law provides for an opportunity to write in a voter's choice for President. However, it is necessary for our Legislature to pass a special enabling act every four years in order to give effect to the "write-in" privilege. Since 1936 the Legislature has NOT seen fit to pass this enabling legislation for various political reasons, which I propose to discuss at an early date. In the meantime, watch this bill as it consults your Representatives about it. They will undoubtedly be glad to enlighten you.

Republican Magazine
There is a great deal of interesting material in the combined November-December issue of the Republican Magazine, just received. Let me quote a few important statistics. The G.O.P. now has 23 Governors as against 26 last year. It has 38 United States Senators as against 37. The big loss is in the House of Representatives, where there are now but 190 Republicans instead of 212. However, before the Democracy gets unduly excited, it might be well to study the behavior of the Congress closely as it tackles vitally-important legislation in the coming months. The apparently-safe Democratic majority may vanish in thin air by the time anti-New Deal Democrats and other Democrats who are critical of F.D.R.'s handling of foreign policy get busy on Capitol Hill and "do their stuff" in conjunction with the strong Republican minority.

Senator Saltonstall
How many of my readers noted that little item in the Boston Herald's weekly letter to servicemen on January 1? The substance of it was this: "Watch our new Senator, Leverett Saltonstall. He is sure to be a powerful factor in the Republican party, nationally, up to and including 1948, the next Presidential year." All residents of Newton will be delighted to see our famous war-time Governor advance in the larger and more important field of big-time politics.

Another Coolidge
Some of the 24 hour a day polls on Beacon Hill are already wondering where State Senator Arthur W. Coolidge of Reading is headed. Will he become Lieutenant Governor after serving as Senate President? After that, What?

CAPTAIN KENNETH J. MERRILL, JR., United States Combat Engineers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth J. Merrill of 542 California Street, Newtonville, who was reported seriously wounded in action in France on December 15. He attended Newton High School and Tilton Academy in New Hampshire. Before his enlistment in April, 1942, he was employed by the General Motors Acceptance Corporation. Captain Merrill attended Officers' Training School at Camp Belvoir, Virginia, going overseas in October, 1944.

Kiwanis Club Installs Officers

The annual installation and ladies night of the Newton Kiwanis Club was held Wednesday night at the Woodland Golf Club. After a roast chicken dinner served by Al Jordan, Edward Pease, Past President of the Club, installed the following men as directors for 1945: Bill Duffy, Jim Gallagher, Bill Jasset, John Keating, Frank Lombardi, Cady Peck and Jim Riggs. After this ceremony, Past International Trustee, Jim Gallagher, installed the following men as officers for the coming year: President, Ben Louis, 1st Vice-President, Leo Noel, 2nd Vice-President, Bill Sullivan, Treasurer, Walter Hood, Secretary, Ed Derocher. Immediate Past President, Walter Hood gave a resume of the year's activities of the Club, after which the new President Ben Louis, outlined the plan for the coming year and announced the names of the committee chairmen, which are as follows: Achievement, Leonard Baker; Attendance, William Sullivan; Business Standards, Edward Hickey; Entertainment, John Keating; Finance, Walter Hood; House, Andrew Murray; Inter-Club Relations, James Riggs; Membership, Classification and Kiwanis Education, Leo Noel; Laws and Regulations, James Gallagher; Music, H. Red Cross Gives New Year's Party at Cushing Hospital

A New Year's party and open house at Cushing General Hospital was given by Newton Red Cross, under the direction of Mrs. Edward J. Cannon, chairman of Camp and Hospital Council. About 400 patients were guests and the hostesses were headed by Mrs. Francis Monroe of Waban, and Mrs. Edward Robinson of West Newton. They, in turn, were assisted by some 47 school and college girls who acted as Junior Hostesses, and played cards, games, danced and sang with the sick and wounded service men. Egg Nog was served, with cakes and cookies which were donated by members of the Newton Canteen Corps.

The Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. will meet at the home of Mrs. Arthur W. Barnham, 712 Chestnut street, Waban, on January 8. Mrs. Ernest G. Hapgood will review "Western Star" by Stephen Vincent Benet.

HARDWARE DEALERS ASSOC. WILL HOLD CONVENTION

Lucius C. Chandler, of J. H. Chandler & Son, Newton Centre, president of the New England Hardware Dealers Association, will serve on the Exhibit Committee for the Association's 52d annual convention and exhibit to be held February 20, 21 and 22 at the Hotel Statler, Boston.

Although patterned on prewar shows, the 1945 exposition will be even larger, in fact Russell R. Mueller, the Association's Executive Secretary, announces that 30% additional show space, over that used in prewar displays, has been contracted for.

Dealer attendance also will exceed that in recent years. Speakers prominent in the fields of business, economics and national affairs—men who have made a particular study of problems confronting small industries in the reconversion period, will present their solutions at the convention and it is expected that at least one of the speakers will include in his discussion of postwar credit planning, material on business loan provisions which are part of the G. I. Bill of Rights.

An innovation this year will be the opportunity to place orders for displayed merchandise either for immediate delivery or on some new items, for delivery after the war. Many staple hardware items will have their first preview, for instance in electrical equipment, merchandise added to hardware sales during the war period will be shown, also hardware finishes—prewar products—in new design.

CHRISTMAS ACTIVITIES AT POMEROY HOUSE

Christmas festivities at Pomero House started with a party for the children of the Nursery School, under the direction of Mrs. Betty Brooks and her assistant, Mrs. Ruth Tedesco, the group played games, exchanged gifts and enjoyed refreshments.

On December 20, the older children had their party. Miss Helen Sandstrom, the director of Pomero House, read a Christmas story, then Mr. Roger Wheeler completely mystified the children with his magic. Ice cream and cookies were served with the help of the leaders, Mrs. Frank Larrabee, Mrs. Walter Forbes and Mrs. Paul Neville, and two board members, Mrs. Hugh Hince and Mrs. Donald Gibbs. As the children left after their happy afternoon, they were each given a stocking which had been filled by the members of the Mothers' Club and the Pomero Socialists, Mrs. Edmund White, Miss Bella Norton, Miss Mary Coffee and Miss Barbara Murphy. The children are sharing their holiday joy in a Christmas fund which they have collected for service men.

The mothers had their own Club celebration that evening. Miss Louise Lovett and Mrs. Frederick White, members of the Pomero House Board shared their fun. The women in Miss Phyllis Schipani's dressmaking classes, the adolescent girls and their leaders, Miss Edith Jalonen, Mrs. Frank Kennedy and Miss Phyllis Schipani, and the dancing groups under the leadership of Miss Helen Marsh, all gathered for stories, games and refreshments.

Weeks Disagrees With New Deal

An attack on the Roosevelt Administration's "vacillating" attitude on safeguarding Polish frontiers against partitioning was made by the U. S. Senator Sinclair Weeks of Newton in a letter to constituents.

Replying to questions on his views on the country's position on the Polish issue, Sen. Weeks wrote as follows:

"The least this nation should do is to make known its feeling that Poland should not once more be re-partitioned. President Roosevelt, at least inferentially, gave our citizens of Polish descent every reason to believe their mother country would not be subject to another partition, and I am sorry to see indications that Mr. Roosevelt and his government may not be able to live up to their commitments in this respect.

"I realize the difficulties and the complexities of the situation," he continued, "and in the final analysis it may not be possible for you and me to bring about the ultimate settlement we desire. But such an eventuality should not could have been foreseen had Mr. Roosevelt been willing to face the realities and tell the people the truth.

"Almost never in our political history," he concluded, "have the forebodings of the (Republican) been realized so soon after an election as in this case. Truly the birds are coming home to roost." I can only hope Mr. Roosevelt and the New Deal administration will very soon dispel our fears which they presently invite by their weak and vacillating action."

American Fighters All...

and on the HOME front, as on the FIGHTING front we must realize that the war is far from won.

BOTH FRONTS MUST REMAIN CONSTANTLY GEARED

VICTORY

YOU can only remain geared for victory by sticking to that war job of yours . . . By making certain that you take as little time off as possible . . . And by keeping physically fit for the tremendous task that lies before you. Yes, Mr. and Mrs. War Worker, this is your fight and you are in this just as much as the man "Up Front" . . . You are just as important as the man who surges over the coral reefs . . . as the man who flies the plane, operates a ship . . . fires a gun . . . or uses so efficiently against the enemy any of these weapons of war which you have helped make possible for him.

So you didn't think you were a fighter, Huh? Well, from whence comes the overwhelming number of planes, guns, tanks, and bullets with which our fighting men are so gloriously moving toward eventual victory? From the sweat and toil of the loyal American men and women like you, in our factories, who are working night and day to mesh their efforts into the heroic accomplishments of our fighting men.

BUT THAT VICTORY IS STILL A LONG WAY OFF. SO STICK TO YOUR WAR JOBS. DON'T CONTEMPLATE A CHANGE UNDER ANY CIRCUMSTANCES . . . and those of you who haven't yet had a part of this war work . . . Get aboard by applying for that job for which you are best fitted at your nearest U. S. Employment Service Office. They will know where you can be of the most value. So see them.

REMEMBER WE ARE ALL A PART OF THIS WAR
SO LET'S KEEP GEARED FOR VICTORY.

Post-War Plan -

sible for the plan are familiar with Nonantum Square and its needs, and the changes—the result of several years' study—will not only improve Nonantum Square, but will benefit the entire city, its business and its traffic problems.

The improvements suggested call for the razing of stores, office and apartment buildings from the railroad bridge at Centre and Hall streets, along Centre street to Washington, including the block of stores on that street, to the parking lot diagonally opposite Charlesbank road. The Trust Company building, now situated in the center of the Square's main traffic artery, would also be removed.

Thus, with the entire area cleared to the B & A railroad tracks, a highway would be constructed allowing eastbound traffic to flow directly to the Riverway in the direction of Boston, and the removal of the Trust Company building would eliminate the traffic detour and bottleneck at Centre and Hall streets. The plan also calls for the erection of a terminal in the center of the Square accommodating trolleys, busses and taxi cabs. This terminal would shelter commuters from the elements and eliminate the dangerous crossings now necessary at this busy transfer point. A comfort station is to be erected there, also.

Improvement has been needed in Nonantum Square for many years and the plan of Alderman Lockwood, Schofield, Eustis, Barwise, Gibbs and Atkins is progressive, necessary and in keeping with the times. Copies of the plan of improvements proposed for Nonantum Square, petitions and the drawing, by E. H. Harvey, City Engineer, may be seen in the various stores throughout Wards 1 and 7, and at the GRAPHIC office.

The reasons listed on the petition for the proposed improvements in Nonantum Square are as follows:

1. The trading center of a village reflects the character of a community.

2. The value of outlying residential property is affected by the condition of the village trading center.

3. Failure to improve conditions in the square has deterred development of store property and caused it to run down.

4. Patronage has left the trading center around the square to trade elsewhere.

5. A large shrinkage in taxable valuations of property on the square has taken effect, causing considerable loss of income to the City.

6. The present condition of the square influences prospective desirable residents to locate elsewhere, whereas desirable citizens would be attracted by improvements planned.

7. The approach to the square from Newtonville on Washington Street at the end of a long highway constitutes a bottleneck for traffic.

8. Facilities for a trolley car and bus terminal have been needed for many years.

9. Bus passengers and trolley passengers should have reasonable space for waiting on a centrally located reservation, under shelter, with protection from rain and snow.

10. Due to reduction of property values when busses are parked in front of stores, busses should be parked at a central point.

11. A comfort station has been an essential need in this square for many years.

12. An outlet from the square is needed, allowing eastbound traffic to flow directly to the Riverway to Boston.

13. The large flow of traffic through the square, serving a village comprising 18% of the City's population, affords a means of profit to local merchants when proper traffic and parking facilities are supplied.

14. These improvements will assist in developing the Square as a prosperous mercantile district, assisting in restoring assessed valuations and City income in a section which in 1943 paid a large part of the City's personal property tax.

15. Since in recent years much less has been expended in this section than has been paid in taxes by the section, annually, such practice has contributed to the conditions to be corrected; and the maintenance of facilities is imperative to prevent decadence of the section.

16. The Newton Corner section in present condition is known as a potential fire hazard, which situation calls for greater fire protection than any other section of the City.

17. Since automobile traffic at present is estimated as but half of what it will be post-war, relief of congestion should be made at this time.

18. The initial steps to improve the situation should be taken by the City, with the expectation that property owners will forthwith be able to develop the opportunity presented.

19. The loss to the City in taxable property and income will continue progressively unless steps are taken to make these improvements.

It's Time To Face Facts

At the first shock of war three years ago, everybody forgot self in the high resolve to win the war—to be worthy of our fighting men and women. Everybody "pulled together" no matter what the call—small or large.

Today our men are in mortal combat all over the world.

Our resources at home of men and materials are being reduced. This situation is likely to become worse as war needs become greater. The long, hard pull is here. The need for united co-operation; for steady, unremitting application to the job ahead is greater than ever.

None of us can afford to be thoughtless in the days ahead. Many of the requests for co-operation are small in themselves—large when taken together.

TAKE THE MATTER OF WARTIME
"ELEVATED" TRANSPORTATION

Continuous "El" transportation is essential if war workers, Navy and Army personnel are to reach their jobs on time. The "El" must also endeavor to operate the best service possible for you, the civilian.

Two years ago we asked you to do a simple thing—avoid riding the "El" between 5 and 6 p.m. in order to relieve congestion—to make room for essential riders. We asked companies and certain large groups of riders to "stagger" their hours of work and travel.

YOU SHOWED THAT CO-OPERATION WAS POSSIBLE

In response to the call, many thousands of you re-arranged your plans and the Elevated was able to carry on with your co-operation.

WHAT'S THE STORY TODAY?

Nine thousand more riders are entering the 12 downtown subway stations between 5 and 6 p.m. and are using the "El" during this big rush hour.

We've managed pretty well for three war winters to carry the 60,000 persons who have been using these 12 downtown stations between 5 and 6 p.m. But when rush hour figures get up to 69,000 as they have now, we've got to ask for some more of that co-operation the public gave us at the beginning of this war.

YOU DID THIS BEFORE—
PLEASE DO IT AGAIN

At that time, you realized we were having great difficulty getting repair parts, let alone new cars, that we were losing personnel to the Armed Forces; that Elevated transportation was essential to the war effort. All that is still true today—only more so. While the "El" has a few more cars, it's short of operators to run them. In 1944 it was able to hire 300 but lost 500. Today the "El" is hiring all the operators it can get. Meanwhile, rush hour traffic is too heavy. Many more persons now have to depend on "El" transportation; the third year of war has "retired" many more automobiles than in '42 and '43. The period just ahead is the toughest of all the year. Up to now, Old Man Winter has been very lenient with us here in Boston. But in the next three months he may "hit below the belt" and that means extra work on "El" lines.

WE ASK YOUR HELP

You can help, as you did before, and as we know you will again. If you're a housewife or haven't a job in Boston, and if you can do so, please go home before the rush hour. If you're in a position to institute the "staggered hour" system of home-going in an office, store, or shop, by all means co-operate. If your business has a staggered hour system which is no longer in effect, please re-establish it.

Until this war is won, until repair parts, materials and equipment can be released for peacetime use, and until an adequate supply of manpower once again is available, remember the "El" must have the co-operation of all in order to perform its essential wartime transportation job.

IF YOU DON'T HAVE TO TRAVEL RUSH HOUR --- DON'T DO IT!

1945 March Of Dimes Campaign Opens Throughout Nation

The 1945 Fund-Raising Appeal of The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis will be opened officially throughout the Nation, Sunday night, by Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation, in a coast-to-coast broadcast over a National network. The Appeal will continue through January 31 and is the twelfth annual campaign in the war against infantile paralysis. Newton Campaign Director Thomas V. Cleveland said in announcing Newton plans for participation.

"Last year," Mr. Cleveland said, "America sustained the second worst epidemic of infantile paralysis ever to hit the nation in the history of the disease. More than 18,000 people were stricken and many of 1944's victims will require medical care and treatment for a long period of time."

"We do not know what is in store for this country or any other country in the year 1945. But it is up to all of us who value the health and welfare of America's children to prepare now for any eventuality," Mr. Cleveland added. Assisting Mr. Cleveland in the drive are the following: Treasurer, Mr. James B. Melcher, treasurer of the Newton National Bank; Newton Corner business section, Mr. George W. Bryson; realtor; Newtonville business section, Mr. Warren Oliver, treasurer of the Newton Co-operative Bank; West Newton business section, Mr. Raymond P. Atwood; Auburndale, Newton Lower Falls, Mr. John Gordon, realtor; Waban, Newton Highlands, and Newton Upper Falls, Mr. Herbert M. Cotton, district manager Fuller Brush Company; Newton Centre, Mr. Maxwell Robson.

JOIN THE MARCH OF DIMES

JANUARY 14-31

Last summer America experienced the second worst epidemic of infantile paralysis in its history.

The disease attacked weak and strong alike, invading the richest and poorest homes in the nation.

Your dimes and dollars, supporting The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, made it possible to render expert care and treatment to all polio victims, regardless of age, race, creed or color.

Many of these thousands of new victims will need care for months, years, some perhaps for a lifetime.

Next summer America must be prepared to meet whatever epidemic emergencies may arise.

W. B. Plumer Urges Families To Open Homes To Children

The welfare of Newton children is threatened, according to William B. Plumer, Chairman of the Newton Community Council, which is sponsoring a "Share Your Home With a Child" campaign, beginning January 14th for a ten day period.

Newton Red Feather Services, concerned with children, report that not enough Newton families have opened their homes to children whose own homes have been temporarily broken up.

The Newton Community Council is assuming the responsibility for acquainting Newton citizens with this need, in the belief that they will respond by offering to share their homes with one or more children.

175 Tons Of Paper Collected Despite Heavy Snow Storm

Despite the heavy snow storm the Paper Salvage Collection in Newton which started off on schedule at 8 a. m. Sunday netted seven freight carloads of paper, estimated at 175 tons. As the storm increased it was necessary for Commissioner John D. Haughey to call off the paper collection at 2 p. m. in order that his men and equipment could be used for the task of removing snow.

Most of the streets in the city had by that time been visited by the trucks, but any bundles of paper that were not picked up, may be placed out for collection on the regular rubbish collection day, which due to the storm, will be one day late in each district.

The Street Department force worked throughout Sunday night and by 6 a. m. Monday all streets in the city had been plowed. Two automatic snow loaders have been used to remove snow from the square.

Clergymen of all faiths are being asked to join in nationwide appeals to their congregations on behalf of the March of Dimes in the fight against Infantile Paralysis. Thomas V. Cleveland, Newton Campaign Director of the 1945 March of Dimes Appeal said today, "The Cripple knows no creed or color. We are urging all priests, ministers and rabbis to bring this great humanitarian activity to the attention of their congregations during the March of Dimes, January 14 to 31."

Word that their son, Pfc. Peter Brooks Wheeler, 19, was killed in action in France on December 19, has been received from the War Department by Mr. and Mrs. Lucius B. Wheeler of 94 Park avenue, Newton.

Pvt. Wheeler was a graduate of the Newton High School, 1943, where he was an honor student and played hockey. He also attended Phillips Exeter Academy and entered Massachusetts Institute a month before he left to enter the Army in July, 1943. He was assigned to the Army Specialized Training Program at Norwich University, Northfield, Vermont. He was later assigned to the infantry and underwent training at Fort Benning, Ga., and Fort Jackson, So. Carolina before going overseas last November. He landed in England and went to France early in December.

Besides his parents he leaves a brother, Geoffrey, who is a student at the Fessenden School, West Newton.

A memorial service is to be held on a date which will be announced later.

Art Exhibit At Temple Emanuel

Sisterhood Temple Emanuel, Newton, held an exhibition of drawings and paintings by children of the congregation on January 9 in the Temple Vestry.

The large collection of works of art on display were made available through the cooperation and courtesy of Mr. Merski of the Boris Merski Art Galleries. Wherever there is an opportunity to promote the talents of young and unknown artists, you can be sure to find Boris Merski. Many now famous artists owe their first break to him.

The program also included an illustrated lecture with slides by Dorothy Adlow entitled "The Jew in the World of Art." The Sisterhood was present in large attendance for this lecture as Miss Adlow is a well known artist and critic.

A table of Jewish literature was another part of the program and this feature will be a part of all Sisterhood meetings so that books on current Jewish subjects will be available for those who wish to buy them.

Mrs. Nissie Grossman was hostess of the afternoon.

"Share Your Home" Campaign Begins Sunday

A "Share Your Home with a Child" Campaign sponsored by the Newton Community Council will be conducted in Newton from Sunday, January 14, which will be known as "Share Your Home Sunday" to January 24.

Dr. Homer W. Anderson, superintendent of Schools in Newton, is chairman of the Campaign. The campaign will be financed by the Share Your Home with a Child committee, a service of the Massachusetts Child Council, supported by the Permanent Charity Fund and the Greater Boston United War Fund.

The Newton Community Council, realizing the need, is sponsoring the campaign. Their headquarters are at 92 Union street, Newton Centre, Tel. Las. 5121.

The Massachusetts plan for care of children away from their own homes is foster home care rather than institutions. The War has brought a scarcity of foster homes throughout Massachusetts, and a geographical study of the location of foster homes throughout Massachusetts shows that Newton has only one third as many as some other communities comparable in size and resources.

Newton agencies, when referring children for placement to Boston agencies, find that nearly always Newton children have to be placed in other cities because no foster homes in Newton can be found. (There is no child-placing agency in Newton, so that Boston agencies perform the service for Newton.)

The children who need homes are babies, teen-age boys and girls and children convalescing from rheumatic fever and other illnesses. None of these children are for adoption.

"All the homeless children are not in European countries," says Dr. Homer W. Anderson, Superintendent of Newton schools. "There are casualties here in Newton, children whose own homes have failed them temporarily. Many are children of fathers who have gone to war, and it is for us to see that no child suffers for want of love and care."

Dr. Anderson is chairman of the Newton "Share Your Home With a Child" campaign, sponsored by the Newton Community Council. On Sunday, January 14th, the opening day of the campaign, all Newton churches have been asked to cooperate by mentioning the campaign at their services, and distributing leaflets giving information.

For the ten days following a well rounded program has been developed for finding Newton families who are willing to share their homes temporarily with one or more children. To save people's time and energy, the committee is planning no formal meeting, but is asking the help of Women's Clubs, Parent-Teachers' groups, and all civic organizations in spreading (Continued on Page 4)

WHOSE CHILD IS NEXT?

Your child, my child—either of them may be next. They are two of the 32,150,000 children in the United States under 15 years of age. Each one of these children is a candidate for infantile paralysis this year. Your child and mine may be two from the thousands who will wake up twisting and turning in their beds as they burn with fever and struggle to straighten spasm-drawn limbs. Yesterday their legs raced through a routine school day, perhaps a ballet lesson, and a dozen games of their own invention.

Today their legs won't work. This is infantile paralysis. It picks its victims from this wealthy home, that tenement— from farms, war production centers, children of our fighting men, small towns and large cities. All children are equally defenseless against this enemy. Regardless of what each child has known before, each one stricken by the crippling virus will feel the same fear of the unknown. More children contracted infantile paralysis in 1944 than in any comparable period in many recent years.

But, because of the efforts of the thousands of our volunteers, each tragedy-hit child will have every chance for recovery through the complete scientific aid provided by The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Remember this when you are asked to contribute to the March of Dimes, held January 14-31 in celebration of the the President's Birthday, and contribute with one hand in your pocketbook and the other on your heart.

Service Man Expresses Thoughts of Home in Verse

The following poem was written by a boy on an L.S.T. boat and sent to Mrs. Zilda L. Fisher, of Newton Upper Falls. Because it portrays so clearly the thoughts that are in the boys' hearts and minds, Mrs. Fisher sent it to the Graphic to be shared with its readers.

Deep in the heart of a ship made of steel,
Thinking and wondering how the folks back home, feel,
Surrounded by starlight, blue water, and foam,
Dreaming in thoughts of the folks back home,
Listening to the turmoil of the motor's dull drone
Just lying there, thinking still of home,
Solitude creeps into one's hazy mind
Then dreams overtake you, of folks left behind.
One's thoughts are all jumbled, as all thoughts do roam
But through all the darkness, you still think of home.
Out of the darkness, all dreams asunder,
Comes a sharp buzz, recorded to all men down under.
"All men to your stations!" in a dull deep tone,
But—there in your heart, there's a thought still of home.
Rushing up stairways, out hatchways they flew
Each man to his gun! Eyes searching the blue.
The roaring of gunfire that chills to the bone.
But still in your mind, flashes thoughts, still of home.
After it's all over, and we're all free to roam,
The best place on earth, is still right at home.

National Bank President Receives War Dept. Award

George W. Sweet of 194 Hobart road, Newton Centre, president of the Newton National Bank, has been presented with the War Department Meritorious Service Award, for his war service as a civilian.

The award was made last Saturday by Col. H. B. Sheets, commanding officer of the Boston Ordnance District of the Army Service Forces.

Mr. Sweet has completed his service as a member of the Boston Ordnance District Contract Termination Board, as chairman of the Army-Navy "E" award committee, and as chairman of the military personnel and civilian employees suggestion committee.

He was appointed chief of the tank automotive branch of the Boston Ordnance District on Oct. 12, 1942, and served in that capacity until December, 1943, when he was appointed executive assistant to the district chief and also chairman of the contract termination board. He was formerly president of the Studebaker and Pierce-Arrow sales companies of New England and was organizer of St. Paul Edmund Realty Trust. He is now a member of the Boston Ordnance District Advisory Board. In World War I, he was a captain in an ordnance division.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor of The Newton Graphic:

Please allow me to express my hearty appreciation of your fairness and liberality in publishing (Nov. 30) my open letter to Vera Michels Dean. It required independence and courage to do it, for the views I presented are exceedingly unpopular. You exhibited a loyalty to the democratic principle of free and open discussion which is exceptional in these exciting and excited times.

I deeply regret that Mrs. Dean could not find time to reply to my open letter, and I thank her for taking the time to send me the enclosed herewith. It occurs to me—so strong are the convictions I expressed—that perhaps there was an additional reason why she did not undertake to concede me, viz., that she knew she could not do it.

I challenge any one of your wise and patriotic readers to try it, including your colorful writer, "P. W. C."

Henry W. Pinkham.
Newton Centre 59, Mass.
27 Ripley terrace.

Miss Dean's Letter
Dear Mr. Pinkham:

Thank you very much for your letter of December 6th, and for the enclosed clipping of your open letter, which appeared in The Newton Graphic. It was very good of you to send me this letter. I do wish I could accept your invitation to answer it but, unfortunately, I am so rushed with emergency jobs that I have no time to answer all the many interesting letters commenting on my speeches which people kindly write me.

With many thanks for your interest in my work, I am,
Cordially yours,
Vera Michels Dean.

Nonantum Square—
The Way In and Out

To the Editor of the Graphic:

Again up for discussion is the subject of Nonantum Square traffic congestion. Like Mark Twain's remark about New England weather, Nonantum Square is a weathered old place. It is a place where the railroad tracks were depressed in 1896. The Square needs local and city-wide attention. The plan suggested recently by Ward Seven residents, involving a $500,000 project, is a difficult one, but it will obligate the major portion of the city to pay the cost if it assumes concrete form.

Many times before, propositions have been advanced to solve the existing square situation, not forgetting that a few years ago the city spent $500 for the service of an expert who submitted a report of his findings. Who now remembers it, or off hand, could name one of its recommendations? Of all that has been written or spoken on the subject of the square, the writer does not recall that overmuch, if any, thought has been devoted to what may be termed related conditions. Rather, it is my attempt to suggest a few of them.

FIRST. How much congestion results in Nonantum Square—from the activities created by the functioning of Newton village, an area of a square mile or two? This question does not embrace buses and electric cars in and out, but does include the operation of Newton's retail business, although recognizing the fact that the congested business spot such as the corner of Summer and Washington streets, Boston.

SECOND. Has any attempt the past 10 years (period of vacant stores and now war time business) been made to see how much the square traffic congestion is occasioned by vehicular traffic—through transit—from the west and south, heading for Boston and Cambridge largely?

THIRD. Perchance if it be that the "square" is cluttered unduly with such auto traffic above-mentioned, would the removal of the greater part of it simplify matters?

These questions might well be explored and reported upon by traffic experts, engineer and town planner, perhaps supplemented to what course the Metropolitan authorities may have in view. Before city authorities undertake a program it might be well to consider (with out-of-town contributing to the square congestion) whether Watertown street could not be promoted to carry some of the traffic at West Newton and Watertown; again if a part of the traffic (light vehicles) could enter Church street and Centre avenue, from Washington street and thus avoid the square whenever possible, it would help. Even Pearl street might absorb a little of the load.

On an space will be taken now to press that diverting Weston-to-Boston traffic, publicity might well be given to the merits of the Worcester Turnpike, Beacon street, and Commonwealth avenue.

Perhaps locally Nonantum looms larger than the entire city's future orderly development, but with $500,000 in view consider for a moment a few other spots. Take Oak Hill (and this is no plug for that go-getter community) which since 1920 has been transformed from farms largely to spaces for the firebrands of scores and scores of residents. What about the "improvement" of Brookline street and Nahant street which has been suggested; the proposed highway to run east-west, roughly through desirable building land, to the Charles River, with the replacement of the present outcreek Kendrick's Bridge?

Talk about post-war projects for the City! There are more than Nonantum square.

Politics With Color

by P. W. C.

Practical Politics

Because my very friendly and efficient postman was on his toes and tipped me off to a colorful article in the Boston Post on Jan. 8, I had an excellent opportunity to look into the eminently practical minds of some of the G.O.P. officeholders up on Beacon Hill. The substance of this article was that the Republican high-command was directly responsible for Horace Cahill's defeat for the Governorship on Nov. 7. If Senator Saltonstall had only taken over former Senator Henry Cabot Lodge's seat in the U. S. Senate last year, instead of appointing Sinclair Weeks, and if Horace Cahill had thereupon become Governor for the better part of a year, this Democratic paper suggests that neither Maurice Tobin nor any other Democrat could have defeated Cahill on Nov. 7.

Well, hindsight is always better than foresight. Once the horse gets out of the stable there are invariably thousands of smart people who tell how it could have been prevented. Prior to the horse's disappearance nobody seems to be quite so smart. Personally, I am not so sure that Cahill could have turned back Gov. Tobin even if he had the benefit of serving as Governor for the better part of a year. Furthermore, the Boston Post appears to proceed on the assumption that the chief duty of the G.O.P. in 1944 was to watch over Horace Cahill and make sure he did not climb to the top of the G.O.P. escalator. Curiously enough, it is usually papers like the Post which are sharply critical of the G.O.P. during campaigns just because they, in the past, have been an escalator. Now they complain because it failed to function in 1944.

May I point out two factors of importance in this connection? In the first place, I shall always feel that Senator Saltonstall acted in the best interests of Massachusetts in every major decision which he made. After that, he acted in the best interests of the Republican party, which has done so much to make possible the new Senator's lovely and brilliant public career.

Secondly, I remind my readers that there is ALWAYS a loud squawk from officeholders of either party when they feel the bottom sliding out beneath them. In many cases, the officeholders are more concerned with their own welfare and continuance on the public pay-roll than they are with the public good or the good of their own party. Accordingly, let us all remember until we find out just where the biggest squawks come from. It may prove extremely enlightening.

The Blind Elephant

In the preceding paragraph I referred to a horse and a stable. Now I want to talk about a blind elephant in connection with the G.O.P. high-command in Washington, D. C. This morning's papers carry a story about the "punishment" of Rep. Christian A. Herter, because he dared to vote according to his conscience in connection with the Dies Committee. It seems that Rep. Herter was one of 34 Republicans in Congress who voted AGAINST the continuance of this much-discussed committee. Most people are sure that this committee had been killed for good, but the members of the new Congress decided to re-establish it. Your columnist does not, at the moment, know what Congressman Herter's reasons were for voting as he did, but he proposes to find out pronto.

Now, what is the result of this particular vote cast by our Congressman? Simply this. The story goes that former Congressman Gifford's position on the vitally important Ways and Means Committee in the House of Representatives was being reserved for Rep. Herter, who would have served there with efficiency and marked ability. However, because he voted against the Dies Committee, the Ways and Means post goes to Congressman Gifford of the Cape. Gifford is one of our more elderly Congressmen, who was gravely injured in an accident last year. For a brief period he was not known whether or not he would recover.

It seems to me that Republicans everywhere should do a little worrying about this whole performance. Off hand, it seems to be just as dumb as the "Stop Wilkie" movement. The big shots certainly stopped Wilkie; they also stopped the Republican party. As I look back on the recent campaign it occurs to me that the so-called "draft Dewey" movement was just as dumb as the "Stop Wilkie" movement. The "draft Dewey" movement was just as dumb as the "draft Roosevelt" movement. In both cases the recipients of the draft were running at full speed in the direction of the White House.

Does the elephant never learn? Here we have a Congressman who turned back a strong Democrat, who came close to defeating him in 1942, but who got a thorough licking this past fall. This Congressman, Christian A. Herter, is one of the smartest and soundest men we have ever sent to Washington. On top of that, he is well-versed in international affairs. However, the G.O.P. leaders decided to punish him for voting according to his conscience. If Massachussetts is being punished at the same time, what of it? That seems to be the attitude of Minority Leader Joe Martin, who, incidentally, got a rather cool reception in the first G.O.P. caucus in Congress.

Mrs. Worth Comments On Herald Editorial

The following letter from Mabel B. Worth, Secretary and Treasurer of the National Guild of Community Music Schools, and Executive Director of the All Newton Music School, in answer to an editorial in the Boston Herald of December 16, appeared in the Mail Bag of the Herald on December 31. The letter headed "Satisfying the Hunger for Music" reads:

The splendid editorial, "Music and Democracy" surely have given comfort to all faithful followers of music in our midst. The "mounting evidence that the appeal of what we call for want of a better term 'good music' is spreading through all the classes" comes as no surprise to those who are devoting efforts, talent, and loyalty to foster that love among the masses.

You ask, "Is there not something we ought to do about it? Should not this hunger of the people receive full attention?"

It is not as generally well known as it should be, that for many years there has been a great deal done about offering opportunity for serious music study and music-making to the boys and girls of our land. Scattered throughout the United States, there are non-profit making community music schools founded upon truly democratic principles, in which the highest standards are maintained, and the tuition fees kept well within the reach of all who are serious in their desire to learn and to create in the field of music.

These schools have been devoting their efforts toward the ideal of raising the cultural level of the people by enlarging the appreciative powers of the young, teaching them to enjoy music-making in their homes, schools and churches, as well as to enjoy listening to symphony concerts, to the fine radio programs, and to good recordings. Every season, large audiences drawn from the immediate communities, attend the recitals and concerts offered by the schools, free to all, at which only the best music is presented.

There is indeed something to be done about giving the masses the good things of life, about giving "full attention to this hunger of the people." It might be well to examine the ways and means to stand, with a view to supporting those who have toiled through the years with patience, sincerity, and devotion to create a music-loving nation through the intelligent teaching of youth.

The All Newton School will be one of the member schools sending delegates and having a special part in the meeting of the National Guild of Community Music Schools to take place on Wednesday, January 10, at the South End Music School in Boston.

The morning session at tentatively will open with a brief business meeting and greetings to delegates and guests from Johan Grolle, President of the Guild and Director of the Settlement Music School of Philadelphia. An interesting program will include the following guest speakers: Walter E. Dewey, Treasurer, Boston Music School; T. Spencer Meyer, Publicity Director, Greater Boston Community Fund; Linwood D. Scriven, Director, Boston Music School; and O. T. Gilmore, Associate Director, Greater Boston Community Council.

A Dutch Treat luncheon will be served under the direction of Mrs. William Ellery, President, Board of Trustees of the South End Music School and her committee in the school building.

After the luncheon, there will be an afternoon session beginning at one-thirty for professional workers. Round table discussion will include an extension program designed to provide the initiative to help establish new schools, and to encourage schools already in existence to affiliate with the Guild as soon as they qualify. They will also be further study of the curriculum outline and standards. The All Newton Music School, Boston Music School, and South End Music School of Metropolitan Boston, are all members of the National Guild of Community Music Schools, and are all Red Feather Agencies.

Award Silver Star To Lt. Col. Toner

Lt. Col. James V. Toner, Jr., deputy commander of the 15th AAF P-51 Mustang fighting group and son of James V. Toner of 14 Lockwood road, West Newton, president of the Boston Edison Company, has been awarded the Silver Star which was pinned on his tunic by Brig. General Dean C. Strother, Commanding General of the 15th Fighter Command at an Italian base.

The citation accompanying the award reads: "On June 6, 1944, Lt. Col. Toner led his flight as escort to heavy bombers attacking a vital enemy airbase in Rumania. Observing approximately 30 enemy aircraft attacking the bomber formation as it left the target, completely disregarding the superiority in numbers of the hostile force, Lt. Col. Toner turned to engage the enemy. In the ensuing combat, observing a P-51 under the aggressive attack from behind by two enemy fighters, Lt. Col. Toner displaying outstanding courage and combat proficiency, immediately went to the aid of his comrade. Heedless of his own personal safety, he engaged the enemy and forced them to break off the attack and disperse.

Through his gallant actions in attacking the face of great odds, he not only saved the life of a fellow pilot, but also enabled the bomber formation to complete a highly successful mission without further interception. "By his conspicuous gallantry, aggressiveness and devotion to duty, as evidenced throughout over 47 successful missions against the enemy and three enemy aircraft destroyed in aerial flight, Lt. Col. Toner has reflected great credit upon himself and the armed forces of the United States of America."

Lt. Col. Toner had previously been decorated with the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal with eight Oak Leaf Clusters.

His wife, the former Martha C. Connelly, and their two daughters, Susan and Paula are residing with her mother at 14 Garnet road, West Roxbury.

Resolutions—The National Joke. The door has swung shut on another year. There's no re-opening of that door—in fact there's no wish to do so. Behind the door are those resolutions that were so glibly made and so easily forgotten. Resolutions to buy bonds, to take a war job, to give blood. It is true that we sincerely intended to do all these things, but just didn't get around to it. And to paraphrase a well-known expression—the road to defeat is paved with good intentions. We have now seen just exactly what has been brought on our boys by half-hearted, child-like, unfulfilled promises. Every woman who has failed to serve her country to the utmost of her ability is actually guilty of the death of those boys in Europe and the Pacific. How long is it going to take the women of America to find this out? You want your men home. You want them alive. You want them unscarred. But do you want them enough to sacrifice just a few hours a day to take a job that will really be saving their lives? As they were in 1944, the doors of Raytheon's Radio Receiving Tube Division, Newton, are wide open again this New Year for any woman who resolves to fight this war out on the production line. Help take the New Year's resolutions out of the category of a National Joke, and place them in the class of a national citadel.

Rays to Be X-Rayed. The opportunity to conduct a chest X-ray program for all Newton plant employees on a voluntary basis and without expense to workers has been made available through the cooperation of the Mass. State Dept. of Public Health and the Newton Health Dept. with Raytheon Manufacturing Company. The purpose of the X-ray program, which will be conducted Jan. 8 through Jan. 15, is to protect the health of all employees.

A mobile X-ray unit will be stationed in the yard opposite the west wall of Building 4. Arrangements will be made so that all employees of each department will have the opportunity to avail themselves of the free service. The details will be explained individually to each group as to the hour and the day. The company will allow time for this examination.

All reports on X-ray pictures are strictly confidential. Neither the Raytheon Manufacturing Company nor any insurance company can get this information. The X-ray report will be sent to the doctor of the employee's choice only if he needs special attention, and the employee will be notified by mail at his home address to see his doctor about this report. If the X-ray shows that the employee has a normal chest, he will be notified directly by mail at his home address.

A few months ago the Hudson plant turned out 100% and the Marlboro plant 98% for the chest X-ray program. Throughout Massachusetts over 100,000 men and women have taken advantage of this special free service. The mobile X-ray unit staffed by members of the Mass. Dept. of Public Health, was purchased by the Tuberculosis and Health Associations of Massachusetts from money raised by your purchase of Christmas seals.

It's the Little Things That Count. Tube Head Tim, company mascot, heard this one from a returned Vet. A Nazi radio commentator was broadcasting the faden's glorious victories. Said he, "Six hundred American bombers shot down. No German planes were lost, but one of our cities is reported missing."

Family Reunion in So. Pacific. Somewhere in the South Pacific two brothers met unexpectedly after 18 months of separation by the war. Pumping each other's hands, speechless with joy, were Pfc. John E. LaFort, U. S. Army, husband of Joan LaFort, Raytheon Radio Receiving Tube Division, Newton, and Pfc. James LaFort, U. S. Marine Corps, former employee of the Newton plant.

Girl Scouts Entertain
Girl Scouts of Troop 13, Newton Centre, who recently put on a series of marionette shows for their parents and friends at the Sacred Heart Church Bazaar, were much in evidence as entertainers during the school holidays just past. They delighted a group of children of the North Brighton Settlement House, and were an interesting feature of the children's party of the Navy personnel of the Fargo Barracks in Boston. They, in turn, were thrilled by the professional performance of marionettes which they attended at the Peabody Playhouse when they were invited to go behind the scenes and examine the carefully executed wooden figures. Among the girls taking part were: Mary Alvord, Kathleen McCormick, Dorothy Ruter, Anne Gorman, Barbara Leahy, Theresa McGrath, Mary Ellen Gaffney, Jacqueline Lusier and Priscilla Bradford.

Cpl. Robert Posner Commended By Lt. Gen. Mark Clark

Cpl. Robert Posner, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Posner of 108 Adena road, West Newton, who recently arrived home on rotation furlough has received a personal letter of commendation from Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark for heroism. Cpl. Posner, who was wounded at Anzio, will leave for an Army rest camp in New York at the expiration of his furlough. He attended Newton High School and Boston University where he starred in sports. He entered the Army four years ago and served for 2½ years with the Fifth Army in the Mediterranean area. His brother, Jack Posner, is serving with the Seabees in the Pacific.

NEWTON In The Past

55 Years Ago
Newton Graphic, January 10, 1890
The will of the late Joseph L. Stone, it is understood, provides for the establishment of a home in this city for the care of aged men and women. Mr. Stone was a wealthy retired banker and his will also sets apart several sums for charities. Friends and relatives of the deceased have also been kindly remembered.

Anti-toxine was used at the Newton Hospital, Monday evening, for the first time with an advanced case of diphtheria. Dr. Curtis, superintendent of the hospital and a number of other physicians witnessed the application of the new remedy, which was followed by favorable results. Boston papers spoke of it as the first time the remedy was used in Newton, which is incorrect, as the Graphic reported an application of it by Dr. Winslow some weeks ago, which was followed by very favorable results.

S-Sgt. MATTHEW P. NARDELLI

Receives Letter From Colonel Commending Brother

The following letter was received recently by Mrs. Carmela Antonellis, 175 Adams St., Newton from the late Lt. Col. Wm. N. Reed, regarding her brother S-Sgt. Matthew P. Nardelli, formerly of Newton was employed by Hood Rubber Co. He entered the service in May 1942, and is attached to the 14th Army Air Force, now serving somewhere in China.

Sgt. Nardelli also has a sister Mrs. Louise Forte who resides at 406 Grove street, Newton.

Dear Mrs. Antonellis:—
Once again the holiday season is almost at hand, and though it is still engaged in the awful struggle which is costing the lives of so many men and keeping so many others from their loved ones, yet we are much nearer the Victory which ultimately must be ours.

Doing his share, and doing it in an exemplary manner, is your brother, Matthew. He has been in my command for over a year, and he has done his work faithfully and well, after working long hours under trying conditions. Any measure of success that we as a unit, have achieved reflects on him for his cooperation and loyal spirit. Working as we are in a strange land, our group has become closely knit both in work and at play. Matthew has been a well liked and well behaved member of our little family.

So to you, his sister, I wish to extend the Season's Greetings. Joining me in this wish are all the other officers of the squadron. Be of good cheer in the New Year to come, and may victory soon be ours. With every good wish for your well being and happiness I remain—
Sincerely,
Wm. N. Reed,
(Lt. Col. 14th Air Force, C.A.C.W.)

W/O George Tweed Speaks To Raytheon Employees

Warrant Officer George R. Tweed, U. S. Navy, the lone American who took to the hills when the Japanese captured Guam and remained in hiding for two and a half years until the Americans reconquered that strategic island in the Marianas, spoke to employees of Raytheon Manufacturing Co. recently, briefly narrating some of his experiences, and urged them to stay on their jobs until final victory is won.

Tweed's gripping story rocked the nation a few months ago when it was learned that he emerged from a crevice in the shoulder of a cliff overlooking the ocean and swam out to a rescue boat as American forces were engaged in the invasion of Guam.

His visit was arranged by the U. S. Navy Incentive Division and it is a part of a campaign to make war plant employees realize more fully how important their work is toward bringing victory.

W/O Tweed placed tremendous emphasis on the importance of superior equipment and said that the type of electronic equipment manufactured at Raytheon is extremely vital.

"After seeing Guam fall so easily because we had almost no equipment there, and then seeing the Americans take it back with the finest equipment in the world which the American people provided for our armed forces, I realized that superior equipment is winning this war," he said. "The more equipment we have and the better equipment that it is, the more lives we save."

Tweed urged his listeners to stay on their jobs and, if possible, to persuade more and more of their friends to get into war work.

Pfc. Hurley Wounded

Word that their son, Pfc. William E. Hurley, 22, had been wounded in action in Italy on October 1, has been received from the War Department by Mr. and Mrs. William E. Hurley of 257 Elliot street, Newton Upper Falls.

Pfc. Hurley is a member of a medical detachment of an infantry regiment in the Fifth Army. He has won the Combat Infantryman's Badge and has been awarded the Purple Heart. He was graduated from the Newton High School in 1940, where for three years he was a member of the outdoor and indoor varsity track teams. Following his graduation he was employed as a playground director by the Newton Recreation Department. He entered the Army on December 7, 1942 and went overseas a year ago.

In a letter received by his parents he said he had been hit in the left leg when the medical aid station was bombed by the Nazis and had been in a hospital for more than two months. He also wrote that he had seen the Pope twice, the first time when the Americans entered Rome last June and were greeted by the Pontiff from a balcony, and again in St. Peter's Cathedral, when he had received a four days' leave.

James K. Georges, 65, of 742 Boylston street, Newton Highlands died at the Newton Hospital at 11:45 Monday morning, two hours after he had been struck by an automobile on Boylston street, near Woodcliff road, Newton Highlands, a short distance from his home.

Charles E. Davis, 35, of 65 Bromfield street, Watertown, driver of the car which struck Georges, reported to the police traffic bureau that he was proceeding west on the turnpike when he saw the man crossing the street from the south side to north. He stated that he sounded his horn and the pedestrian started to run. Davis said he applied his brakes and the car went into a skid and before it came to a stop, Georges was struck by the left side of the car, near the door.

Let's keep our sights on the main target

Our fighting men always attempt to "Do First Things First." In their book the "first thing" of all is victory over the Germans and the Japs. For three full years, their sights have been trained unwaveringly on their objective, Total Victory. They recognized fully the strength of the enemy and realized that only complete concentration could bring about the defeat of desperate and fanatical foes.

The phenomenal and successive victories of our armed forces are a great tribute to their ability to concentrate on their objectives. Unfortunately, these successes have given the civilian population in recent months the idea that we "were in", and, as a result, there has been a very noticeable diminution in the war effort here at home.

Recent set-backs suffered by our armed forces should serve to emphasize that the hardest part of the roads to Berlin and Tokio is still ahead. Our fighting men know this. Their sights are unflinchingly and determinedly trained on their objective, Total Victory.

Let all of us at home, until our enemies have been defeated on all fronts, keep our sights on the main target, Total Victory.

Dining With Jane and Bill

Jane—Say, Bill, that wooden box you made for the milk is really working O.K. It keeps the sun off the milk as it sets on the doorstep and I don't have to worry about it freezing these days. Besides several times I used to find the neighbor's cat purring around our bottles.

Bill—I'm glad you like it, dear. It was really easy to make. What was the name of that vitamin we read about—the one so easily destroyed by sunlight? Isn't that what started us thinking about making that box?

Jane—Oh, yes, that's riboflavin. We had a lecture on it once in our nutrition course.

Bill—Seems I've heard a lot about different vitamins but I've never heard of this one? What is it?

Jane—It's often called vitamin B2—riboflavin is the chemical name. By the way, our diets can easily be quite low in this vitamin.

Bill—What happens when we don't get enough of it anyway?

Jane—Oh, several things that are hard to define. You may feel weak and run down. More severe signs show up in the skin, eyes, mouth and tongue. For example, the skin at the corners of the mouth becomes cracked and inflamed.

Bill—Did you find out what foods we need to eat to get enough riboflavin?

Jane—As I remember there aren't many foods that are especially high in this vitamin. Milk is the best source. Other good sources are meat, liver, fish, eggs, cheese, "greens" and fresh and dried peas and beans. Speaking of greens—things like escarole, kale, spinach, collards and mustard greens are really pretty good.

Bill—So that's why you got me to try some of those new things in the garden last spring! Smart girl!

In Jane's nutrition notebook we found these interesting figures:

Adult—Recommended daily allowance riboflavin 2-3 milligrams.

Foods that would furnish this amount of riboflavin for the day:

	Milligrams
Milk, 1 pint	0.9
Egg, 1	0.2
Meat, average serving	0.3
Green leafy vegetable	0.3
Bread, cereals, 6 serves	0.3
Miscellaneous: fruit, potato, etc.	0.2

"Treatment of infantile paralysis cases is expensive," Mr. Cleveland said, "but it is the duty and privilege of all of us to join in insuring every aid for the afflicted. While our men and women are engaged in winning the war abroad, it is up to us at home to win the home-front fight against the Crippler. Every participant in the March of Dimes will be helping today's children to go forward in strength and health to fulfill their destiny in Tomorrow's America."

EDWARD H. WHITTEMORE

Kiwanis Club

Fire prevention and regulations for public safety, were the topics of an address given by State Fire Marshall Edward Whittemore, at the Wednesday noon meeting of the Kiwanis Club in the Newton Y.M.C.A. Attending the meeting as the guest of Chief John Keating of the Newton Fire Department, Mr. Whittemore sketched the history of fire prevention and fire fighting in Massachusetts from early Colonial times.

The assembled Kiwanians were startled to learn that arson was punished by death, in the good old days, down Plymouth way. The death penalty, however, was considered a bit rough, according to the Marshall, and later changed to a choice of a fine of twenty pounds or twenty lashes in public. The first alarm was also instituted in Plymouth County. A cannon fired twice was the signal that something was burning—and to come arummin'.

Although the office of State Fire Marshall, created in the 80's, was intended solely to investigate fires of suspicious nature or of an unknown origin, Mr. Whittemore informed his listeners that the office now assists in all matters concerning the public welfare in matters of fire prevention. The State Fire Marshall's office is in constant touch, he added, with the 21 cities and 267 towns in Massachusetts, all of which have fire fighting apparatus.

"Wildcat" electrical devices and assorted other gadgets, placed on the market since the war, are dangerous and causing fires, according to Mr. Whittemore. One of these, a certain type of fluorescent light, set fire to a ceiling in, of all places, a fire house, he said. Then, he continued, a glass ash tray exploded, the other day, when a lighted cigarette was laid on its surface. Plans are being formulated to declare in noncompliance with Newton Share Your Home Committee better fire protection and the cooperation of the public will be welcome.

The Kiwanis Mid-Winter Conference will be held Jan. 20, at the Hotel Touraine. A letter from the Newton Share Your Home Committee was read, appealing for temporary homes for needy children. Jim Gallagher and Walter Finney were presented 17 and 11 year pins, respectively. Walter Hood and John Janse told of "Wildcat" electrical devices and the boys and girls overseas. Next week's speaker will be Mr. Maurice Whelan, regional director of the U.S.O. Guests were Bill Gleason, Chief Tom Slamin of the Wellesley Club, Lt. Mike O'Connor of the State Fire Marshall's office, Dwight Colburn, Arnold Barker, Roy Newcomb, and Francis L. Buswell of the Newton Savings Bank.

Personal Finance Company has reopened its Newton office for the convenience of the people of Newton and the surrounding communities. The new office is located in the Washington Building on the 2nd floor, 312 Washington street, Newton Corner, the same building as they previously occupied.

Mr. Melin, the manager, has been associated with Personal Finance Company for a number of years.

The Personal Finance Company of Newton will make loans from $25 to $600 or more to residents of Newton and vicinity who are confronted by problems and emergencies which require ready money quickly. Mr. Melin states that it is his aim to provide responsible folks in Newton and vicinity with a greatly simplified, streamlined type of personal loan service.

"We believe that folks here are honest and therefore we will loan money simply on the borrower's promise to 'pay us back,'" said Mr. Melin. "If a man can bring us evidence of established credit elsewhere, such as passbooks or receipts, we can take care of his money needs in 15 minutes. I say this because I feel that the best security for a cash loan is the character of the borrower. "To us the man who comes in for a personal loan is a business-like, reliable customer, and we will treat him as such. To him getting cash here will be just like opening a charge account at 'money-store'. Everyone dealing with us will have complete privacy and full assurance of fair dealing."

The campaign has the support of all Newton Red Feather Services dealing with children, including, besides the Newton Community Council, the Newton Family Service Bureau, Newton District Nursing Association, and Catholic Welfare Committee, also the Newton Board of Public Welfare.

Because sufficient foster homes have not been found in Newton, often it has been necessary to place Newton children in other communities, away from friends and school ties. It should be emphasized that these children are not for adoption; all of them, it is hoped, will rejoin their families eventually.

Since there is no Red Feather Service in Newton which places children in foster homes, the Massachusetts Child Council and child-placing organizations are conducting the campaign at the request of the Newton Community Council. Representatives of these foster parents during the campaign, and help to fit the proper child into the proper home. They will welcome visitors at the Council office, 93 Union street, Newton, telephone Lasell 5121, from January 15th to 24th—weekdays from nine to five, Saturdays from nine to twelve.

Assisting Dr. Anderson are: Mrs. F. Hopewell Underhill, chairman, and Nelson E. Hooper, George P. Kennison, Charles B. Wilbar, and Arthur G. Wolfrum, members of Public Relations Committee of the Newton Community Council; Rev. Michael Doherty, Pastor of Our Lady's Church, Newton, and Director, Newton Catholic Welfare Morris, rector of Trinity Church, Newton Centre, and chairman, Speakers' Bureau of the Council; Miss Anne P. Ogilby, Family Service Bureau, chairman of Foster Homes Committee of the Council, and members of her committee; Mrs. Mary K. Bail, Secretary, Share Your Home With a Child Committee, Massachusetts Child Council; Mrs. Bernice Cohen, Children's Mission to Children; and what is more, Mr. and Mrs. War Worker, you can't afford to get tired until this war is over and finished ... until victory is ours ... that victory which means so much to you and to the other half of that team of which you are a mighty part ... those men on the fighting fronts. That victory is now a long way off but it can and WILL come ... if you stick to that war job of yours ... keep yourself physically fit ... and give a full day's work every day that you possibly can.

Miss Florence Fitzgerald, Newton Department of Public Welfare; Miss Hilga S. Nelson, Executive Director, Newton District Nursing Association; Miss Estelle G. Marsh, Vice-President, Newton Federation of Women's Clubs; and Miss Esther C. Walther, Executive Secretary, Newton Community Council.

ARE WE TIRED? ... NO!

Remember, you are a part of one of America's greatest armies ... the Industrial Army! Who with heads held high and shoulders squared, uniformed in overalls and slacks are marching with justifiable pride every day through factory gates over which fly those service flags of red and white bearing stars of gold as well as stars of blue.

History will record the smashing blows which you have helped deliver. Blows wrought by the fearless sacrifice of those whom those stars honor and whom you have supplied.

Remember you, too, Mr. and Mrs. War Worker are helping to write a great chapter which will some day tell of the miraculous outpouring of weapons made by free American labor. Weapons and parts delivered in amazing quantity and ON TIME for the attack which will blast open the gates to victory.

No one knows better than the men and women who make the weapons with which our soldiers fight so gloriously, that the time for writing history is not yet here. That time can come only when the powers of evil are buried beneath the fruits of their own brutality, battered to a rubble by an avalanche of war weapons that are yet to be financed, yet to be manufactured, yet to be hurled at the enemy by our HEROIC MEN WHO NEED HOME FRONT BACKING MORE NOW THAN EVER BEFORE.

So whatever you do, stick to your job and give it all you've got!

Mr. and Mrs. J. Richard Williams announced the birth of a daughter, Linda Lee, on Friday, Jan. 5, at Richardson House, Boston. Mrs. Williams is the former Janice Stange of West Newton. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stange, 23 Sterling street, West Newton, and Mrs. John E. Williams, 152 Grove street, Auburndale.

A daughter was born to Corporal and Mrs. Paul R. Viles (Dorothy Emery) at the Newton Hospital on January 6.

Hospital Aid Ass'n Holds Meeting

The annual meeting of the Newton Hospital Aid Association, held in the lounge of the nurses' home of the hospital at 10-30 Tuesday morning, was a very delightful occasion and was attended by several hundred of the more than 1400 members. They were greeted at the door by the president, Mrs. Theron Walker, who wore a corsage of gardenias presented to her by the executive committee. Mr. Clifford B. Walker, president of the board of directors of the hospital, Miss Florence Flores, assistant principal of the school of nursing, who read the report of the school, and Miss Mabel McKivick, principal, who was unable to attend, and Dr. Margaret Woodman, of the New England Hospital for Women and Children, were the guest speakers.

Mrs. Walker, in opening the annual meeting, welcomed the members, one-half of whom were attending for the first time, having joined during the recent membership drive so ably championed by Mrs. Frank R. Clark. Mrs. Walker said that war emergencies had greatly increased the need of volunteer workers and they have played an important part in many hospitals. Many of our association members are serving as volunteers in our Newton hospital. The work of the hospital Aid Association has been to volunteer financial aid and its main function is to make it financially possible for the hospital to have many things which are needed to carry on its work.

Miss Mabel McKivick, efficient treasurer of the association, gave the year's financial report and listed all of the gifts made to the hospital this year, the president explaining each gift in more detail. Mrs. Carlos T. Pierce, secretary, combined in her report the year's activity of the following chairmen: patient-bed fund, purchasing fund, publicity, bridge and fashion show, by-laws and membership, the latter two being special committees. The report of the coffee shop and benefit show were given by Mrs. Walter McGill, coffee shop chairman, and Mrs. Francis Williams, manager of the benefit shop. Mrs. Williams report being read by Mrs. D. Brewer Eddy, chairman of the benefit committee. It is the 18th birthday of the benefit shop and it has many new customers and many old ones, who continue to come. Over $400 was made on the recent treasure sale and the sales at the coffee shop have doubled.

109 food customers since August 9, 1943. With its staff of workers and its fifteen volunteers a day, the coffee shop is meeting a long felt need. The gift shop too has been most successful under the chairmanship of Mrs. Edward J. Sawyer.

Mrs. Walker expressed the deep and sincere appreciation of the hospital to the aid association for the many things it does to enable the hospital to meet its needs. He told of the hopes and aims of the hospital. He said that the infant formula room which will be completed in June is one of the greatest things that has ever been done for the hospital; the library, to provide opportunity for research and study for both doctors and nurses, fills a definite need. He felt that the association gifts this year had been of the utmost help and that the hospital directors have been, are, and always will be deeply grateful to the aid association.

Miss McKivick wrote particularly on the proposed draft of nurses by the government and told how it would affect the Newton Hospital. 35 per cent of new and recent graduates go into the armed services each year and the draft would make comparative small change in this figure. 110 nurses, graduates of Newton Hospital, are now in military service. There has been a shortage of nurses but the volunteers have been most helpful.

Dr. Woodman told of interesting new drugs that have become available, particularly sulphadiazine and penicillin, the wonder-drug. She also stressed the increased use of human blood and the importance of the blood bank, needed both for the battle front and the home front. She spoke of other discoveries, R. H. factor in blood, and caudal anesthesia for obstetrics.

The chairman of the nominating committee, Mrs. Gordon Wilkes, presented the following list of nominees and they were unanimously elected: Mrs. Theron B. Walker, president; Mrs. Edward W. Pridie, 1st vice; Mrs. F. Marsena Butts, 2nd vice; Mrs. Ralph W. Conant, 3rd vice; Mrs. Harold C. Wiswall, 4th vice; Mrs. Oliver Ames Loth, 5th vice; and Mrs. Henry E. Keever, 6th vice-president; Mrs. Carlos T. Pierce, secretary; Mrs. Bertha B. Tracy, corresponding secretary; Miss Mabel McKivick, treasurer; and Mrs. Edwin Gibbs, assistant treasurer.

Hostesses at morning coffee were Mrs. Oliver Ames Lothron, Mrs. Gordon Wilkes, and Mrs. Edward W. Pridie with Mrs. Charles B. Floyd and Mrs. Elton G. Cushman as pourers.

Newton Rotary Club

At the regular weekly meeting of the Newton Rotary Club held at Brae Burn Country Club, the speaker was none other than Newton's own Secretary, Herbert N. McGill, who gave his annual message for the New Year—"The Economic Outlook." Secretary McGill was introduced by Vice President Warren Oliver, and President Orville O. Clapper presided over the meeting. Mr. McGill said in part: "No one knows definitely just how severe our losses are in the European theater of war, but the setback is of sufficient proportions to change radically the attitude of this nation. Only a few months ago there was a wave of complacency as labor began to shift from war industries on the assumption that the war for all practical purposes was won. Now pessimism has supplanted optimism. Few realize the repercussions which are following in the wake of the renewed drive to speed up the production of equipment. A few of the high spots are:

(1) The reconversion program has been sidetracked and will be held in abeyance until victory over Germany is definitely assured. (2) The shortage of civilian goods is bound to become more acute, involving metals, finished textiles, shoes, paper, lumber, etc. (3) Because of shortages in the face of abundant purchasing power there can hardly be any escape from a further tightening in civilian rationing. (4) The labor situation leaves much to be desired in both industry and agriculture, and hence, plans are being formulated for the drafting of labor in the endeavor to overcome shortages. The edict now is "work or fight." (5) It is now necessary to speed up the volume of drafting for military services, and that will only tend to aggravate the shortage of labor in industry and agriculture. (6) Unanticipated additional economic experimentation is more or less compulsory to achieve the prearranged goals for the early months of 1945. Make no mistake, the successful German counter-offensive has resulted in a further distortion of our economy."

There were four visiting Rotarians and six other guests, beside about fifty-five members of the Newton Rotary Club present.

The Newton Zonta Club held a dinner and New Year's party at the home of Miss Alice Doxey, 63 Page road, Newtonville on Monday.

The disease attacked weak and strong alike, invading the richest and poorest homes in the nation.

Your dimes and dollars, supporting The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, made it possible to render expert care and treatment to all polio victims, regardless of age, race, creed or color.

Many of these thousands of new victims will need care for months, years, some perhaps for a lifetime.

Next summer America must be prepared to meet whatever epidemic emergencies may arise.

The War Department letter stated that after re-examining available information, records and reports for the past 12 months, it found no evidence for continuing to hope that Lt. Hay is still alive and for the records he is presumed to be dead. Lt. Hay, a bombardier, was 23 years of age when he was reported as missing in action in a bombing raid over Ludwigshafen, Germany, on December 30, 1942. He was married in Utah in June, 1943, to Iva Jean Walker, who is now residing in North Worth, Texas, with their young son, John S. Hay, Jr. Lt. Hay has two sisters, Miss Ruth L. Hay and Mrs. John W. Nichols, both of Newton.

Lt. Hay graduated from Hebron Academy and joined the National Guard in August, 1939. He was inducted into Federal service January 16, 1940, and was stationed at Camp Edwards. Later he transferred to the Army Air Forces and received his wings as a bombardier at Big Springs, Texas in 1943, going overseas in October of the same year.

"There is an opportunity for women to help their families, and also to do a service to their country," says Mrs. Thresher. "More and more trained nurses are being called into the Army and Navy, and it is the patriotic duty of every housewife to learn to take care of her own family in case of illness, so that nurses in the community can be released for active duty."

Other classes throughout the city are being formed, and information and registration regarding these may be made by telephoning the Chapter House.

Everyone is invited to join and enrollment may be made by calling Mrs. Heibek at Lasell 1487, or the Chapter House, Lasell 6000.

Annual Infantile Paralysis Drive Gets Off to Good Start

Early returns of the Twelfth Annual Infantile Paralysis drive in Newton are well ahead of last year according to Thomas V. Cleveland, Chairman. The March of Dimes continues through January 31, and stores and public buildings throughout the city are prominently displaying the coin collector. The school children of the city are conducting their campaign the last three days of the drive under the direction of Miss Jane M. Wyman, Principal of the Oak Hill School. Mr. James B. Melcher, Treasurer, reports a number of substantial contributions have already been received. Coin boxes are placed in all the factories of the city, and many of the Corporations are making substantial contributions. All who take part in this drive are helping to fight this terrible disease, the cure and prevention of which are yet to be found. The scope and effectiveness of the work of the National Foundation was aptly demonstrated during the serious epidemic in No. Carolina this past summer, when 344 patients were treated. Supplies, equipment, skilled doctors and nurses were immediately dispatched to the scene. A 170 bed hospital was erected almost overnight to care for these victims. The newest and best in treatment and equipment were put to use. The result—of the 344 patients, only 12 died; 68 per cent made complete recoveries, and at least one-half of the rest will recover and lead full and normal lives. That record stands as a monument to prompt and competent care for Infantile Paralysis victims.

Family Service Bureau Assists Service Man's Family

A war-time report of case workers to the Board of Directors of the Family Service Bureau of Newton at its January meeting described, among others, how the needs of one service man's family were met when the income was insufficient.

This young couple with four children, and the father in the army had recently bought a home and had a mortgage on it requiring payments higher than could be met with the father's army pay. The case worker helped the mother solve the problem in a very practical and realistic fashion.

First, with the help of the Newton Nutrition Center, a satisfactory budget was planned to provide food and other necessities. Second, the case worker took the matter up with the church which the family attended and it met the budget deficit. Third, contact was made with the bank which held the mortgage and arrangements were made to suspend payments on the principal until the father is discharged from the army. And fourth, the city assessors were consulted with a view to lowering the assessment on the property, and to securing an abatement of taxes until the husband returns.

While no financial relief was given to this family directly by the Family Service Bureau, the case worker opened up sources of assistance to the family which enabled it to carry on as a going concern.

Miss Jane Lundy, the General Secretary pointed out to the Board that service such as is described in this case, is typical of that furnished by the Bureau, and in different situations, it opens widely varied sources of help.

Churches Support "Share Your Home" Child Campaign

The Share Your Home With A Child Campaign in Newton, with headquarters at the Newton Community Council, 93 Union street, Newton Centre, is receiving the support of all churches in Newton.

"I appeal to all Catholic families in Newton who can share their hearts and their homes with foster children to volunteer for this Christian service. The satisfaction to foster parents in offering the security of a good home to one or more children will more than outweigh any sacrifice involved."

Archbishop Richard J. Cushing, "I wish the 'Share Your Home With A Child' committee success, and I urge Newton families who can respond by sharing their homes with children to volunteer."

Rev. R. S. Merrill, President Newton Ministers' Association "I appeal to you to open your homes to the children who need care, love and kindness. Help them grow into healthy and good citizens."

Share Your Home With a Child

What would you do, Mr. and Mrs. Newton, if Mrs. Newton became ill and there was no nurse or housekeeper to care for your children? This has happened in Newton, not once, but many times.

Here is the story of the Smiths, who are real people, though their names have been changed because you might know them. They have a lovely home in Newton, and two charming children, Bobbie, three, and Jeanie, one year old.

Several months ago, Mrs. Smith became ill and had to be rushed to the hospital for an emergency operation. There was no relative to step in and they could not find a housekeeper.

Then the hospital told them of one of our Red Feather Services which could help with a foster boarding home. At first Mr. Smith's pride got in the way; he had contributed liberally to the United War Fund each year, but he had never expected to be on the receiving end. Yet when it was explained that he could pay for the children's care, and when he found that a trained nurse and doctor would help in supervising the children in the foster home, he decided to accept the service offered.

Unfortunately, there was no foster home in Newton for the children. They had to be placed twenty miles away, which meant that Mr. Smith could not see them very often.

Now, after five months, the Smith family is reunited. Last week Mr. Smith called the Red Feather Service to say thank you for all that had been done for Jeanie and Bobbie. "By the way," he added, "we want you to know that, when you need a foster boarding home, we'll gladly take a baby for you."

Newton children helped by our Red Feather Services are children of every race, color and creed, and from every strata of social and economic life. These children are not for adoption; all of them hope to return to their own homes. All expenses for these children, including board, clothing and medical care, are paid directly to foster parents by the agency regardless of what the child's own parents can afford to pay. The agency also stands behind the foster parents and shares responsibility.

Will you share your home and your heart with one or more children? If so, the Newton Share Your Home With a Child Committee, at 93 Union street, Newton Centre, La 5521, would like to know about you.

Broadcast to Be Dedicated to Public Health Nursing Day

On Monday evening, January 22, the "Cavalade of America" broadcast will be dedicated to National Public Health Nursing Day and will present an exciting half hour dramatization about Public Health Nursing.

All National Broadcasting system stations from coast-to-coast will carry the program. The time in the East will be eight o'clock. It is felt that while the nurses on the homefront are giving their all we do want to give credit to the nurses on the warfront and the following story is an indication of the way our boys feel about our girls at the front.

"I'd have been a goner... " "Hit the ditch boys; here come the Jerries." Coming over the horizon was a formation of hedge-hopping German bombers after the column of American infantrymen advancing on St. Lo in the Normandy Campaign.

One of the men in the column was Staff Sergeant John Schuster of Hillcrest avenue, Stetson, New Jersey. Like the good soldier he is, Sergeant Schuster dove under the nearest hedgerow for cover and waited for the planes to begin the attack. He didn't have long to wait and chance played a dirty trick on the sergeant. Out of all the bombs released, only one missed the road and it fell on the hedgerow a few feet from Schuster.

"I landed in France on D Day plus six and had been in action for forty-three days when we moved in on St. Lo. It happened so quickly that I can scarcely remember the details. The first thing I really remember is an Army nurse standing over me giving me blood plasma. I'm an old hand at it now, for I've had plasma twenty times and they're now giving me whole blood transfusions. If it wasn't for the plasma they gave me I'd have been a goner."

There were six nurses at the field hospital in France. Four were on duty during the day and two at night. That didn't mean a thing to them, for they were there all the time. Their off-duty time was spent trying to give some little extra attention to the little things are what count when you feel as badly as I did.

"Sometimes you could tell that they were tired, but they never lost their cheerful dispositions and always had a smile on their faces. Those nurses are doing a wonderful job."

"I'm going to be well soon, thanks to the care of those grand Army nurses and believe me if any of you nurses at home can join up, do it for me, too." This information is sent from the Nurses War Services Committee of the Newton Community Council, 93 Union street, Newton Centre, 59.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor of the Graphic:

When our former colleagues from the Upper Falls wrote you regarding Nonantum square, did he have in mind that surveys of not only Newton Corner but all parts of the city were in the hands of the City Planning Board where they had received laborious study? The most comprehensive and latest traffic survey was made under the supervision of Mass. Institute of Technology. The City Planning Board unanimously approved the proposed improvement after deep study of the subject.

It was only upon learning that valuations located directly upon Nonantum square had shrunken some $700,000 that those interested became active, and it was only after definite promises of reconstruction of at least $750,000, contingent upon such improvements, directly upon the square, and more outside the square, that the matter of the improvement had been made widely public.

For many years this section, which rates the highest square foot value and 18 per cent of the city's population, has paid into the city something like $190,000 per year more than has been spent within it. For years it has been considered good municipal government to take this money from down this way and keep on spending it elsewhere. When our local values and city income shrink tremendously through such neglect of this section, however, it is time to realize that practice has been carried too far. This does not suggest future neglect of any other section.

The theory has been to accept some shrinkage throughout the city as normal and then create enough improvement in some wide open space for enough new construction to supply sufficient added valuations to offset that normal overall shrinkage, and thus maintain a low tax rate.

This procedure has left in its train a series of neglected areas which nowadays are developing into rundown districts. The character of Newton as a whole has changed in the growth of the city to a population of over seventy thousand.

We are at the cross-roads, or shall be definitely so post-war, as to the kind of city Newton will be. The population will rise to a hundred thousand in the years ahead. The type of people who form the thirty thousand to come will shape Newton and define its character.

What kind of new residents would make their homes around Newton if they were introduced to Nonantum square as the trading area for the city? If we do not care whether we may attract desirable residents and if we in customary inertia accept the drift or flow that locates within the city for reasons of convenience, we should be ready to accept such results.

Blighted portions of our cities are at the root of a great many municipal difficulties. Older areas have streets and sewers and schools, police and fire houses, public facilities of every sort, but the casual plan in some minds is only to keep on building new districts without fully preserving the quality of the old.

Previous surveys have been carefully studied, reviewed and discussed. This improvement is a vital city-wide matter and there are many citizens who are specifically familiar with the need and the practical gains.

Reference has been made to another and more limited survey, which by the way, recommended fully as large outlays, from which one suggestion was adopted—namely the widening and completion of Jackson road at high cost. The object was to divert traffic from the square and the object failed utterly.

To lay before your readers evidence of the thoroughness of investigation and the complete wisdom of approval of the plans unanimously approved by the City Planning Board would take much space. Those who have been fully informed have rarely failed to supply enthusiastic support.

The reactionary effort to draw funds away from this part of the city and to point out where else they may be spent is a trend which has already brought ample evidence of its folly and costliness to city income.

Theodore R. Lockwood.

four-stacker, built at Mare Island Navy Yard during World War I days in the then record time for destroyer construction, 17-12 days. She was a 1090 ton craft, with a normal complement of 145 men. She was converted to a destroyer transport last year and used for carrying troops and small landing craft to assist in landing operations and supplying hurriedly needed reinforcements, as well as performing escort duty. The loss of the Ward was announced at the same time as that of the USS Maian which was similarly the victim of an aerial torpedo and had to be sunk in the Philippine area. She became the 48th and 49th U. S. destroyers lost in the present war.

Ensign Rainsback reports to the Miami Naval Training School in Miami, Florida, February 14th. His wife and son will accompany him. His brother David, 22, is also at home on a 10 day furlough, having completed the V-7 Refresher course at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute at Troy, New York, after serving as a naval aviation cadet for eleven months. He leaves for Midshipman School at Northeastern University, Chicago, January 23. His sister, Mrs. Edgar L. Bell and her two younger daughters have been in the Rainsback home for two years while Lieut. Bell, Chaplain USNR, has been stationed in California. He has recently gone overseas and is in the Hawaiian Islands.

Politics With Color

by P. W. C.

Senators Vandenberg and Wheeler

It is interesting to contrast the recent performance in the U. S. Senate of the two old wheel-horses of the two major parties, Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, Rep. of Michigan and Senator Burton K. Wheeler, Dem. of Montana. The Michigan Senator has been classified as an isolationist for a number of years; so has the gentleman from Montana. Curiously enough, it was Senator Vandenberg, the Republican, who made a stirring speech in the Senate, upholding the President's hands and even going a step further in his suggestions for dealing with current political anomalous situations abroad. The amazing part of Vandenberg's speech was, of course, his complete repudiation of his past stand on foreign policy. Had Senator Burton of Ohio, Senator Saltonstall of Massachusetts or any one of a score of other Republican Senators of the kind as did Senator Vandenberg, nobody would have been surprised. In one deft stroke, the taint of isolationism, which has caused the Republican party no end of embarrassment, was in great part removed. If we could now hear a speech along the same lines by the ultra-conservative and intellectual Senator from Ohio, Hon. Robert A. Taft, the G. O. P. would be in a much stronger position.

The point I wish to make, however, is this: an old-line Republican from Michigan has given the President aid and comfort, whereas an old-line Democrat from Montana has deliberately done what the administration had begged its followers NOT to do, namely, open up a full-throated debate on U. S. foreign policy at a very critical and delicate time. I do not mean to imply that there may not be considerable merit to Senator Wheeler's charges and complaints. Frankly, it occurs to me that he is voicing the feelings of a great many of our citizens. Unfortunately, however, there is a time and a place for all things and today is not, as I view the situation, the time for an all-out debate on the merits and demerits of our various allies in this world-wide war.

There is, of course, another side to the picture. Senator Wheeler may say that all treaties require the approval of the U. S. Senate and that there must be an opportunity somewhere along the line for the Senators to engage in a thorough discussion of our entire foreign policy. Too many of us, including the writer, have only the haziest idea as to what constitutes our foreign policy. It appears to be governed too much by expediency and by the whims of the President. Minister Churchill and Marshall Stalin. Despite all this, it seems only reasonable to let the President indicate what may be a more suitable time for a full-dress debate in the Senate. After all, if it is true, as the writer has heard and read, that the President is holding another conference in the very near future, why put a lot of sand in the gear-box and engender bad feeling among our allies? Heavens knows that we need their heartiest support in the trying months to come. This is the reason, and for this reason only, I deplore Senator Wheeler's poorly-timed three hour speech on the floor of the Senate.

My readers may have noticed an item in the Boston papers recently regarding the final liquidation of James Michael Curley's debt to his home city of Boston. A very substantial check was turned over to the city by somebody acting for the Congressman. My guess is that the money was raised quietly by his old-time friends and supporters, who figured, quite correctly, that the Curley campaign for Mayor of Boston would smell a little sweeter if the candidate had wiped the slate clean, either by his own efforts or by the efforts of his friends.

It so happens that there are a great many side-issues in this current effort of James Michael to return to City Hall. Observers are wondering, for instance, just what Gov. Tobin will do in connection with the three bills now before the State Legislature. The Republicans, of course, as well as a great many self-respecting Democrats, are going to move Heaven and earth to keep Mr. Curley out of City Hall. Curley, on the other hand, is very good at arithmetic. He knows that $20,000.00 is twice $10,000.00, his current salary as Congressman. He has always been what the boys call a "money-player." He will play every trick in the game to stage a come-back. His success or failure depends quite largely on the position taken by Gov. Tobin, who can, presumably, influence a substantial number of Representatives on Beacon Hill. If Gov. Tobin throws a block in the Legislature, controlled by the Republicans, he can doubtless stymie Curley, who will fight desperately to defeat the bills which would postpone the Boston election for Mayor. In any event, it will pay to watch developments on Beacon Hill closely during the coming weeks.

Dining With Jane and Bill

Junior—Hi, Daddy!
Bill—Hello! What have you been up to all day?
Junior—I went to the doctor's.
Bill—What's wrong? You look o.k. to me.
Jane—Oh, there was nothing wrong. Bill. I took him to the Preschool Conference at City Hall for his yearly check up. They didn't miss a thing. First, the nurse in charge weighed and measured him. After that the dental hygienist looked over his teeth. I talked to the nutritionist about his diet and food habits while he played with the other kids. Then the pediatrician gave him a thorough physical exam.

Bill—Sounds like a good morning. Say, how much did all this cost?
Jane—It's part of the program of the Newton Health Department—just like the examination they give to the children in school. Any child between 18 months and 5 years is welcome. Mrs. Black told me about it and I called the Health Department at City Hall right away and asked for an appointment.

Bill—What did they say about Junior?
Jane—He's in fine shape. But we must take him to our doctor for his inoculations for whooping cough and diphtheria and his vaccination for smallpox. You know I've been having some trouble with Junior, getting him to take his nap. The doctor gave me some good suggestions about that and the nutritionist helped me with the problem of his refusing to eat some of his vegetables. Here are the recommendations they gave me—you can read them while I put supper on the table.

Bill—Well, this sounds really sensible—and we know that it's from an authoritative source. I bet we avoid a lot of trouble by straightening these things out before they get to be serious problems.

NOTE—Look over Jane's and Bill's shoulders next week and find out what they learned at the Preschool Conference.

"WHAT'S COOKIN' IN NEWTON"

JANUARY 18, 1945

Merry-Go-Round -

gents in uniform, memories of the old days—and of the beach Merry-Go-Round that wouldn't change its tune, are causing this right index (typewriting) finger to pause uncertainly over the keys. We're not exactly sure as to just what tune or speed you may prefer these days. Some fellows, who write for the newspapers, are beginning to devote almost a whole column to the subject recently. He wondered, he said, as to whether we, on the home front, speak the same language as that spoken by our hard bitten fighting men on the battle fronts around the globe. Citing the experience of a girl, who, in her daily letters, mentioned all of the local news, so's to keep her fiancé abreast of all that went on in his home town, he said that she found it wasn't at all what the G.I. wanted... Far from it... The G.I., who must have been through some mighty tough going, picked up his pen and in a letter that fairly dripped vitriol, told the girl he'd never read such drivel in his life. He wanted no more of it and he wanted no more to do with a girl who'd write such stuff, either... So far as he was concerned, he concluded, she could consider their engagement broken!

QUESTIONS MARK

So, although it has been the popular notion over here that all of you enjoy reading about the daily doings in your home town, an incident, such as the above, throws a question mark into play. It's difficult for a cent sitting over here on the sidelines to give a decision. Maybe the G.I. who broke with his girl was, momentarily fed up with the world and didn't express the opinion of any other than himself. Maybe he's sorry and has taken it all back by now. However, be that as it may, we'd like to sit in the classroom again, as we did away back there in 1912, and learn from those of you who read "What's Cookin'!" just what you'd like to see in your little paper...

PICTURES

Starting this issue, "What's Cookin'!" will feature a picture of a Newton business center every two weeks. The pictures were taken by George Penham, last Wednesday, and will accurately depict traffic and shopping conditions on a week-day afternoon. Charlie Walker is home on a 21 day furlough. Charlie was a sergeant-major on the "Ghost Dime" that landed, nilless, in Belgium on Thanksgiving Day. The new draft law will just about place every male in a uniform, or in a defense plant. It has plenty of teeth... It's snowing here again. Two storms in three days and traveling is really difficult... If you have even a post card handy, please let's know whether or not you have a preference for news other than what you've been reading in "What's Cookin'." If we've been offside, we'll re-convert...

GI'S ACTIVITIES AT Y.M.C.A. INCREASE

The women's and girls' section of the Y. M. C. A. program has been growing by leaps and bounds during the past year. The activities have been broadened to include squash, racquets, badminton, and bowling so that practically all facilities of the "Y" are being used on each Friday.

The high school girls, under the leadership of Mrs. Grace Kunz, have just started bowling activities, however adults have been bowling evenings during the past season.

The adult recreation period in the gymnasium at 8 p.m. has also been gaining in attendance. Under the leadership of Mrs. Arthur S. Berberian a series of games and conditioning exercises has been developed.

Several hundred girls and women are taking advantage of the activities under the leadership of the Women's Activities Committee consisting of Dr. Cecil W. Clark, chairman; Mrs. Frederick Sayford Bacon, Mrs. Arnold C. Barker, U. S. Kenneth E. Erskine, Mrs. Frederick A. Hawkins, and Mrs. George R. Strandberg. The present staff supervising the program includes Miss Marjorie W. Aldrich, supervisor and women's registrar; Miss Phyllis M. Andersen, girls' registrar; Miss Edgar M. Horne, chairman of volunteers for lobby supervision; Mrs. Chelcie Cardinal, director of girls' aquatic activities; Miss Margaret Bascom, director of women's aquatic activities; Mrs. Arthur S. Berberian, director of recreation; and Mrs. Helen P. Irving, physical department assistant.

SALTONSTALL TAKES OATH AS SENATOR

Leverett Saltonstall, Massachusetts Republican, took the oath as U. S. Senator on January 10, the third Bay State man to occupy a seat in the upper branch of Congress.

Saltonstall, who was elected to the Senate in November by a record-breaking plurality after several years as Massachusetts governor, succeeds Sinclair Weeks. As governor, Saltonstall had appointed Weeks to fill the vacancy until the regular election after Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., resigned to enter the Army.

KIWANIS CLUB

Fire prevention and regulations for public safety, were the topics of an address given by State Fire Marshal Edward Whittemore, at the last meeting of the Kiwanis Club in the Newton Y. M. C. A. The new president, Benjamin F. Louis, conducted the business session. Attending the meeting as the guest of Chief John Keating of the Newton Fire Department, Mr. Whittemore sketched the history of fire prevention and fire fighting in Massachusetts from early Colonial times.

The assembled Kiwanians were startled to learn that arson was punished by death, in the good old days, down Plymouth way. The death penalty, however, was considered a bit rough, according to the Marshal, and later changed to a choice of a fine of twenty pounds or twenty lashes in public. The first alarm was also instituted in Plymouth County. A cannon fired twice was the signal that something was burning—and to come a-runnin'.

Although the office of State Fire Marshal, created in the 80's, was intended solely to investigate fires of a suspicious nature, or of an unknown origin, Mr. Whittemore informed his listeners that the office now assists in all matters concerning the public welfare in matters of fire prevention. The State Fire Marshal's office is in constant touch, he added, with the 31 cities and 257 towns in Massachusetts, all of which have fire fighting apparatus.

Wildcat electrical devices and associated other gadgets, placed on the market since the war, are dangerous and causing fires, according to Mr. Whittemore. One of these, a certain type of fluorescent light, set fire to a ceiling in all places, a fire house, he said. Then, he continued, a glass ash tray exploded, the other day, when a lit cigarette was laid on its surface. Plans are being formulated, he declared in conclusion, to combine towns into districts for better fire protection and the cooperation of the public will be welcome.

CRIBBAGE FANS TO MEET

Red hot competition will be the order of the evening when the order of experts get together Friday evening, Jan. 19th at the office of Carley Realty, West Newton.

Several teams of four men, including their player-managers from Raytheon, Newton Fire Dept., Police Dept., Street Dept., Boston Consolidated Gas Co., Edison Co., the Telephone Co. and four Carley Realty customers are expected to match mental and manual agility for interesting prizes. The tournament will be conducted under the rules of Howell and as winners progress towards victory, the losers will have the opportunity to continue to play with other losers so that all will be kept active.

Message -

will be my pleasant task to welcome you back and to find jobs, since I am on the Mayor's Re-employment Committee.

In the meantime, I am trying to keep busy in the Newton Red Cross, recruiting members of your families to take the Home Nursing Course, so that we can manage to keep our own illnesses looked after, in order to release more nurses to go out to you boys who need them. We would like to have one woman or girl in every Newton home, who knows how to do Home Nursing.

Another thing, which interests me tremendously, is the education all of our boys will want, when you get back home. You may remember that I am the only woman member of the School Committee, and as such I would welcome letters from you making suggestions as to what kinds of courses you would like. Dr. Home Anderson, our acting Superintendent of Schools, has all very much in mind with post-war plans for the High School, the Trade School and post-graduate courses to fit your needs. So let us know how we can serve you when you return.

RAWSON APPOINTED CLERK ON TWO COMMITTEES

Speaker Willis of the Massachusetts House of Representatives has appointed Representative George E. Rawson the ranking Republican member of the Election Laws Committee on Military Affairs and Public Safety. Rawson is clerk of both committees and is the only representative in the House to hold the office of clerk in two committees.

Other Newton Representatives were appointed to the following committees: Representative John S. Whittemore, Committee on Insurance; Representative Henderson Inches, Committee on Cities; Representative Margaret L. Spear, Committee on Public Welfare and Committee on Education.

THE HARD WAY

In reporting the launching of a ship this classic appeared in a marine magazine not long ago: "Completing an impressive ceremony, the lovely daughter of the founder smashed a bottle of champagne over her stern as she slid gracefully down the ways."

IT'D DO

From our boys in Australia comes the story of the kangaroo which, after pausing several times to scratch her stomach, yanked two baby kangaroos from her pouch and thrashed them soundly for eating crackers in bed.

For Those in Service

by

The Rev. Ray A. Eusden

Pastor of

The Eliot Church of Newton

O God, our Father, we remember before thee our sons and daughters, all our

dear and loved ones, who have gone forth to serve the cause of freedom and justice

on the land, on the sea,

and in the air. Guard them

during the long days of their training and be a shield to them in hours of loneliness and danger. Give them high courage, vision of noble service, steadfastness in the path of duty.

May the thoughts of home

fill them with gracious

memories and the resolve to be worthy of those who love them. Fill us who are

home with humble pride in those who serve and with a sacred spirit that shall make us worthy of the freedom for which they fight.

Cleanse our hearts from all evil as we know the pang of sending them forth and as we await with high hope their coming home again.

175 TONS OF PAPER COLLECTED DESPITE HEAVY SNOW STORM

Despite the heavy snow storm the Paper Salvage Collection in Newton which started off on schedule Jan. 7 netted seven freight carloads of paper, estimated at 175 tons. As the storm increased it was necessary for Commissioner John D. Haughey to call off the paper collection in order that his men and equipment could be used for the task of removing snow.

Most of the streets in the city had by that time been visited by the trucks, but any bundles of paper that were not picked up, are to be placed out for collection on the regular rubbish collection day.

The Street Department force worked throughout Sunday night and by 6 a.m. Monday all streets in the city had been plowed. Two automatic snow loaders have been used to remove snow from the square.

Newton Merry-Go-Round

By Paul Considine

It's been a long time since your correspondent sat in a classroom and, alas, although most of the time spent there was more or less wasted, a bit of learning did manage to catch up with us occasionally. We saw our first flying machine from the 8th grade windows in 1912; for instance — and "hooked" from school for the remainder of the week, so's to inspect it more closely at the Walham flying field.

Then, as memory recalls, it was in the year 1912, too, that the behavior of the boys took a radical change for the better, with the school girls in the class. The teachers were very happy about this and complimented us, fondly, on the fact we were actually learning to "act like gentlemen"...

Another milestone

So, that was another milestone gained on the path of knowledge — gleaned in the classroom. The girls' surprised and wary, kept their left hands high. But when they discovered we "gentlemen" no longer wanted to pull their pig-tails, or stick them with pins, they declared a truce which, eventually, became a friendly armistice and resulted in many joyous trips to the beach with our "girls" that summer...

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Now at this beach there was a merry-go-round, and that's what we want to write about this week. It was a grand, gaudy thing and being as how the price of a ride on it was only a nickel, a fellow could get a lot of mileage out of a half a buck. Enough to get his girl dizzy before his dough ran out, anyway. We haunted that merry-go-round at first, for it was a lot of fun whirling around, and easy on the budget, also. But the darned organ played the same tunes over and over again, until they became tiresome. We tried telling the owner about it, but that was no help. He was satisfied, he said. We weren't so we stopped patronizing the place. Others stayed away, too, and soon that merry-go-round stopped going 'round...

Today, as this "What's Cookin' Merry-Go-Round," begins spinning in the direction of you ladies and

Rotary Club Hears Leland Bickford

Speaking before the Newton Rotary Club at the weekly meeting held at the Brae Burn Country Club on Friday, Leland Bickford, former Yankee Network news editor, told of his experiences while serving as a Coast Guard combat correspondent in the Pacific. Mr. Bickford who was wounded at Saipan has just recently returned from the Pacific. He also saw duty in the Atlantic.

He expressed alarm at the tendency in this country to underestimate the Japanese as a fighter stating that, except for his equipment, he was very capable. He said that the American supremacy over the Jap at present was due largely to the flame thrower used by the Yanks.

The present optimism at home over the possible fall of Japan soon after the defeat of Germany is not well founded, Mr. Bickford stated in forecasting five years more of war in the Pacific.

The speaker stated that the first requirement on the home front was to help adjust the returning veteran with all the facilities available, including, the church and social service agencies. He said that after a five month period, between April and August, without hearing from home, he was shown a copy of "What's Cookin' in Newton" on a remote island. Mr. Bickford revealed the Japanese espionage is very effective, playing the "Yo Yo" game, broadcast the plans for the invasion of Saipan before the landings took place.

Warren W. Oliver, chairman of the program committee, introduced the speaker and President Orville O. Clapper conducted the business session. Dr. Homer Anderson told about the "Share Your Home with a Child" campaign, which opened in Newton on January 14.

Harold Batchelder, a member of the club on leave, was one of the guests.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

After the business meeting on Jan. 12, Mrs. Gladys Clapper, president of H. P. Hood and Sons, will give a short lecture on "Nutrition and Health." The feature event will be a Pie Social under the direction of Miss Madeleine Sears. Mrs. Albert Dubeau will be hostess for the evening.

Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter

A regular meeting of the Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter, D.A.R., will be held on Tuesday, January 23rd, at the West Shop, Newton Highlands, the regent, Mrs. Ernest F. Dow, presiding. Dessert-coffee will be served at 1:30 p. m., with Mrs. Thomas F. Rice, hospitality chairman in charge, assisted by hostesses. The business meeting at 2 p. m. will be followed by a Lawrence Thaw Color Travel Film, through the courtesy of the Colonial Beacon Oil Company.

Kiwanis Club

A Newton resident, Mr. Maurice Whalan, regional representative of the U.S.O., was guest speaker at the noon meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club, at the Newton Y. M. C. A., Wednesday, Mr. Whalan informed his listeners that the U. S. O., which had its beginning in 1940 with 300 clubs and capital of $3,000,000, now has more than 8,000 clubs in this country and has become a $60,000,000 enterprise.

The U. S. O., he said, provides places of entertainment, recreation, council, loans, (on occasion) entertainers and, in some areas, food. Concerning the sale of food, or snacks, the U. S. O. is compelled to keep prices on par with that of any town or city in which it operates.

With more than 1,300 entertainment units in the field, at this time the speaker declared that but fifteen per cent of the entertainers are stars. The great majority being unknowns who have been traveling all over the world, so to bring a bit of cheer to the servicemen and women on the fighting fronts.

Of the many difficulties faced by the U. S. O., Mr. Whalan said that the job they have on their hands at Fort Devens, Ayer, is typical. There are 15,000 negro soldiers in camp and just four negro families in the town. The task of putting on a dance for the boys is a real one and to furnish enough dancing partners, it's necessary to "import" large numbers of girls from the city.

The U. S. O. is doing everything humanly possible to function efficiently, he added in conclusion, and it was his opinion that the real history of its achievements will not be known until years after the war's end.

Les Baker won the prize. Bill Deuchle, manager of the Edison Company's Newton office, was inducted into membership. The secretary read a report of the Club's activities during 1944. There will be a special program next week. A closed meeting with no speaker. Members will be invited to take the floor and voice compliments, give what-ye-will. Luncheon guests included: Sgt. Augustus B. Wason, C. Courtch, George Benham and Al. Farrar.

Social Science Club

Mrs. I. S. Dillingham will read a paper on the Clipper Ship Era in Boston at the meeting of the Social Science Club, Newton, on Wednesday morning, January 24. The hostesses will be Miss Jean Kenrick and Mrs. Vernon B. Swett.

Red Cross War Fund Drive Opens March 1

The 1945 Red Cross War Fund for Greater Boston gets under way March 1, when 22 chapters in the Metropolitan area will unite in an appeal to "Keep Your Red Cross At His Side." In announcing the amalgamation, General Chairman Phillips Ketchum said that it would comprise the country's first great combined Red Cross undertaking, the first time in history that so great a number of chapters would be banded together in partnership.

There will be an intensified drive for contributions lasting through March 26, Ketchum said, with the point being stressed that never has the need been more urgent for funds to continue and increase the irreplaceable services by which Red Cross save lives and otherwise look out for the welfare of our fighting men. Germany's counter-offensive, he explained, took and is taking a high toll in wounded men and in men taken prisoner. Also, stepped-up actions in the Pacific are having a similar effect. Hence the greater need for Red Cross services.

The 22 participating chapters in this great concerted drive represent 29 communities in the Greater Boston area. Though merged for the war fund campaign, Ketchum explained, each chapter will retain its identity, and each will have its own war fund chairman, treasurer and a complete campaign committee. Also, he said, each chapter will have its own special gifts committee, business committee and house-to-house or residential committee.

P.T.A. Reports On Second Meeting

The P. T. A. of the John W. Weeks Jr. High school held the second meeting of the current year on Tuesday, January 9, at seven p.m. at the school.

The hour from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. was devoted to visitation of Parents and Teachers assembled in the auditorium where the questions presented at the November meeting were discussed. In the absence of Mr. Peel, the president of the P. T. A., the vice president, Miss Elizabeth Meyers, presided. The minutes of the November meeting were read by Mrs. W. L. West, the recording secretary.

The first question, concerning penmanship in its various phases, was clearly explained by Miss Virginia Joyce, English teacher of the faculty.

Whether or not fundamentals were being neglected in the school curriculum was discussed by Mr. Charles Richter of the faculty.

A parent, Mr. H. Earle Wilgus, gave an interesting account of his visit to the cafeteria during the lunch period and was able to answer favorably the question concerning the length of time devoted to that event of the day.

The pros and cons of the seventh period were presented by Mr. Radcliffe Morrill of the faculty with comments and suggestions from parents in the audience.

Mr. Harold Gores stated that he was sorry that he couldn't give the parents any encouraging news about the present service. Due to conditions and shortages caused by the war, the B. & M. bus cannot replace nor add to the number of conveyances now in use.

A panel, consisting of three parents, Mr. Frederick Allard of Newton Centre, Mrs. James Butler of Waban and Colonel Robert Scherane of Newton Highlands and four teachers, Mrs. William Hogan, Mr. Arthur Howard, Miss Bettina King and Miss Elizabeth Meyer led by Mr. Blaisdell discussed the subject of homework. Many interesting ideas were advanced, some in favor and some against; but no definite conclusions were reached.

A very interesting summary of the evenings events was then presented by Mr. Homer Anderson, Superintendent of schools of Newton.

GERMAN BLOW CHANGES ECONOMY IN UNITED STATES

The German counter-offensive in Europe has definitely changed the country's economy, Herbert N. McGill, president of the McGill Commodity Company of Auburndale, stated at the meeting of the Newton Rotary Club.

Mr. McGill, who is secretary of the club, presented his annual talk on "The Economic Outlook."

Introduced by Vice-President Warren W. Oliver, he said in part:

"No one knows definitely just how severe our losses are in the European Theatre of War, but the setback is of sufficient proportions to change radically the attitude of this nation. Only a few months ago there was a wave of complacency as labor began to shift from war industries on the assumption that the war for all practical purposes was won. Now pessimism has supplanted optimism. Few realize the repercussions which are following in the wake of the renewed drive to speed up the production of war equipment. A few of the high spots are:

"The reconversion program has been sidetracked and will be held in abeyance until victory over Germany is definitely assured.

"The shortage of civilian goods is bound to become more acute, involving metals, finished textiles, shoes, paper, lumber, etc.

"Because of shortages in the face of abundant purchasing power there can hardly be any escape from a further tightening in civilian rationing.

"The labor situation leaves much to be desired in both industry and agriculture, and hence, plans are being formulated for the drafting of labor in the endeavor to overcome shortages. The edict now is 'work or fight.'

"It is now necessary to speed up the volume of drafting for military services, and that will only tend to aggravate the shortage of labor in industry and agriculture.

"Unanticipated additional economic experimentation is more or less compulsory to achieve the prearranged goals for the early months of 1945. Make no mistake, the successful German counter-offensive has resulted in a further distortion of our economy."

1945 MARCH OF DIMES CAMPAIGN OPENS

THROUGHOUT NATION

The 1945 Fund-Raising Appeal of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has opened officially throughout the Nation.

Jan. 14 by Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation, in a coast-to-coast broadcast over a National network. The appeal will continue through January 31 and is the twelfth annual campaign in the war against infantile paralysis.

Newton's Campaign Director, Thomas V. Cleveland is assisted by the following: Treasurer, James B. Melcher, Newton Corner business section; George W. Bryson, Newtonville business section; Warren Oliver, West Newton business section; Raymond P. Atwood, Auburndale and Newton Lower Falls; John Cordun, Waban, Newton Highlands and Newton Upper Falls; Herbert M. Cotton; Newton Centre, Maxwell Robson.

The drive in the Public Schools will be under the direction of Miss Jane M. Wyman, Principal of the Oak Hill School and Peabody Home for Crippled Children, and Chairman of the Junior Red Cross. Assisting in the school collections are Mrs. Leo Baldwin, Mrs. Richard B. Cole, Mrs. Donald Gibbs, and Mrs. Elmer Pillsbury. John Cahill is in charge of the Parish School drive; Miss Adelaide Ball, Women's Clubs, and Ralph Sanguinetti is chairman of the Manufacturing Division.

Mr. Cleveland pointed out that were it not for the dimes and dollars contributed by the people to the previous Appeals of the National Foundation, thousands of children who are now recovering from infantile paralysis might still be disabled.

"Treatment of infantile paralysis cases is expensive," Mr. Cleveland said, "but it is the duty and privilege of all of us to join in insuring every aid for the afflicted."

"While our men and women are engaged in winning the war abroad, it is up to us at home to bring the home-front fight against the Crippler. Every participant in the March of Dimes will be helping today's children to go forward in strength and health to fulfill their destiny in Tomorrow's America."

BICKFORD TALKS BEFORE ROTARY

Leland Bickford, former Yankee Network news editor, who saw action in both the Atlantic and the Pacific as a Coast Guard combat correspondent for the Navy, Coast Guard and Marines, was the guest speaker at the meeting of the Rotary Club on January 12 at the Brae Burn Country Club.

Mr. Bickford, who was wounded on Saipan, described his experiences in the Pacific. He also said that after a five months period without hearing from home, he was shown a copy of "What's Cookin' in Newton" and was doubly interested in it because the editor, Philip O. Ahlin, was an old friend and former neighbor of his.

Warren W. Oliver, chairman of the program committee, introduced the speaker and President Orville O. Clapper conducted the business session. Dr. Homer Anderson told about the "Share Your Home with a Child" campaign, which opened in Newton on the 14th.

BUSINESS BOOM LIKELY AFTER WAR

Rupert C. Thompson, secretary of the Newton Chamber of Commerce has announced that the surveys made in Newton and those made throughout the country "point to an annual expenditure for merchandise and services in the postwar period of 100 billion dollars."

"In 1929 the peak was 74 billion, which means that retailers will need to be prepared to sell from 30 to 50 per cent more than they ever did in the best prewar year," he stated in the latest bulletin of the Chamber of Commerce.

Commenting on other trends in retailing, he stated:

"Changes in customer demand, new shopping habits and trends in standards of living bring about significant developments in types of retail stores and in the services they make available to the public. In the 10 year period 1929-1939 while there was little change in the relative proportion for merchandise, there was a dollar was spent. For example, sales of cigars, cigarettes and tobacco made through food stores, eating places and drug stores were three times as great in 1939 as the total volume of all sales made through cigar stores and stands."

CUBS TO GET CABIN THANKS TO SALVAGE

If there is a scrap of waste paper left in any of the 1500 homes in Waban, it isn't the fault of the cub scouts. The members of Angler Club Pack 10, about 60 in number, ranging from 9 to 12 years old, combed the village clean and despite the snowstorm netted two freight car loads estimated at 40 tons of salvage.

The boys, working under the direction of Robert W. Taylor and Arthur B. Crowell, members of the cub committee, hung the doorbell of each home twice—the first time the Saturday before Christmas to request householders to have all gift wrappings and other waste paper, and again Saturday, Jan. 7, to remind them to place the paper salvage out on the sidewalk for collection Sunday.

Besides the patriotic motive behind the drive, it was also undertaken to bring about another benefit to the community. The proceeds, estimated at nearly $500, are being used to erect a log cabin for the cub pack.

The boys did all the preliminary work in the drive, passing out WPB Salvage Division circulars at all homes and stores, but when it came to the collection Sunday, they were assisted by about 30 fathers of cub scouts and half a dozen WACS at the wheels of a many Army trucks, loaned for the day. The work of loading the freight cars at Newton Lower Falls was done by the adults. Wilbur Bullen, pack leader, was in charge of the cub count.

At the Angier School, the drive headquarters, all workers were served soup, coffee and other refreshments at a canteen conducted by Mrs. W. H. Banks and Mrs. Robert Rose. The six WAC drivers were guests of the Committee Chairman Crowell for dinner.

WORLD AFFAIRS SEMINAR FROM DOWN UNDER

The World Affairs Seminar, which met again on Jan. 11 at the Newton Y.M.C.A., under the direction of Professor Kirtley F. Mather of Harvard, recently received special mention in the National Council Bulletin of the Y.M.C.A. as a professional paper, as an outstanding contribution to the public information in a local community.

Dr. Mather was commended for his skill in arranging a significant series of interest to local community leaders. The Seminar has been meeting at the Y.M.C.A. since December with a capacity enrollment. The members of the Seminar have been doing research work around the globe affecting the coming peace. Most of the members are active in leading various neighborhood discussion groups in many sections of the city.

The topic for discussion at the January 11th meeting was "British Plans for Europe," by Neil East and Northern Africa."

By Bill Sullivan

Newton High came through to lick Arlington 3-1 in the Greater Boston Hockey League. Johnny Recco, all star at Newton, scored two of the goals and Dave Crafts the other one. I'm sticking to MY JOB!

Until the last shot is fired . . . and I know you people back home will stick to your jobs, too . . . because you and I depend upon each other . . . and no matter what you do, where you are employed . . . or how far we are apart, we are all in this war to the finish . . . I may be a fighting man, yes, but I'm only a civilian transplanted by war . . . and out here and on every front we suffer from the same headaches, sore feet and backaches as when we were home working beside you or living in the house next door.

And there's many a day when we would give anything to sleep late or take a few hours off to attend some personal need.

But we know we can't so we don't . . . and you can't either for there's still an awful lot to be done . . . a lot of fighting to be done . . . and one whale of a lot of ammunition, equipment and war materials of all kinds yet to be manufactured and used before we fire that last shot.

And our women in War Work must do just as we are doing . . . putting that job that is to be done first above all. No they can't afford time to stay home to even do the family wash or give the house a thorough cleaning . . . unless they have planned a schedule that won't call for a minute away from work.

You can depend on us out here . . . we'll never slow down . . . and you at home can't either . . . we know you won't because for everything we need . . . for everything we have to have we are depending upon you. And remember . . .

WE CAN DO OUR JOB OUT HERE BECAUSE YOU ARE DOING YOURS BACK HOME

BECAUSE communications directs the attack, it stands for both the success and safety of our fighters overseas. Right on the heels of the infantry are the men of the Signal Corps. The farther they advance, the more telephone equipment they need.

The demand for communications equipment for war is so urgent that many thousands of civilians in New England, and throughout the whole country, must wait. How long? We wish we could tell you.

Until victory is assured, the manufacture of wires, switchboards and instruments for civilian use is restricted. Meanwhile we are doing all we can to make existing facilities serve the greatest number.

Our plans are made for expanding facilities when the fighting ends. Catching up with the civilian construction suspended during war years will be a big job and you can understand it's going to take time.

Mass. S.P.C.A. Urges Public To Remember Birds

Once again the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, 180 Longwood avenue, Boston, Massachusetts, has appealed to bird-lovers everywhere to help their feathered friends survive the extreme cold weather by putting out food for them.

During the bitter cold days, particularly when the ground is covered with snow and ice, it is highly desirable that grain, bread crumbs, corn meal, etc., be spread where birds can reach them, thus eliminating the possibility of suffering which might result through lack of their natural diet.

"The most satisfactory method of putting out food for them," stated the Society, "is to place it on a large board with a molding around the edge. In this way it is not scattered or lost."

JOIN THE MARCH OF DIMES

JANUARY 14-31

Last summer America experienced the second worst epidemic of infantile paralysis in its history.

The disease attacked weak and strong alike, invading the richest and poorest homes in the nation.

Your dimes and dollars, supporting The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, made it possible to render expert care and treatment to all polio victims, regardless of age, race, creed or color.

Many of these thousands of new victims will need care for months, years, some perhaps for a lifetime.

Next summer America must be prepared to meet whatever epidemic emergencies may arise.

Brothers Meet On So. Pacific Isle.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Smith of 53 Bennington street, Newton, recently received a letter from their son, Stanley Smith, in which he told of meeting his brother, John Robert Smith, on an island in the South Pacific. It was the first time the two brothers had met in two and one half years and while they were greeting one another, Stanley felt a tap on his shoulder and on turning around saw the two Whelan brothers from Newton, James and Thomas, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Whelan of 40 Oakland street. All four boys got together and enjoyed a good time.

Stanley Smith, Radioman 2-c in the U.S. Navy started his training on April 12, 1942 at the Great Lakes Training School. After finishing his boot training he went to the University of Wisconsin to train as a radioman, and following his graduation went to sea for a year in the Atlantic area. On his return from sea duty he attended a school in California until last September when he again went to sea in the Pacific area where he is now on duty.

John Robert Smith, a corporal in the U. S. Marine Corps, began his training on March 11, 1942 at Parris Island, South Carolina and in June of the same year was sent to the Pacific area. He has been in five major battles.

Two other brothers in the service are T-Sgt. Edward Smith, U.S. Army also serving in the Pacific area and Pfc. Frederick L. Smith, U.S. Marine Corps now stationed at Quantico, Virginia.

Keep grinnin'—you're winnin'! George, who is well on his way to recovery after a crippling attack of infantile paralysis, gets a pep talk from the gang. The visitors, now in perfect health, once were victims of polio themselves. All were aided by the Middlesex County (N.J.) Chapter of The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Your contributions to the March of Dimes, January 14-31, will help thousands of youngsters like these to win their fight against infantile paralysis.

Generous Response To March of Dimes By Clubs

Miss Adelaide B. Ball, President of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, reported at the third executive board meeting held January 22nd, at the Clafin All Music School Room, Newtonville, that the various Women's Clubs were responding generously to the "March of Dimes Campaign."

Reports were brought in from the different committees including the one on "Housing," also the progress of the Thrift Centre and the Red Cross report on "Home Nursing" and "Nurses for War Services." Reports were given of the Services offered by the "Information Service" and the "Share Your Home" campaign of the Newton Community Council.

Mrs. Marcus K. Bryan announced the total amount derived from the sale of Xmas Seals, which was $949.92.

The mid-year meeting of the Newton Federation will be held Tuesday, February 6th, at 2:00 o'clock, in the Parish House of the Congregational Church, Newton Highlands, when the Women's Club of Newton Highland, Mrs. Roger C. Ellis, president, will be hostess to the Federation.

Residents On Missionary Board

Rev. Virgil Foster of the Second Congregational Church, West Newton and Miss Stratton of Eliot Church, Newton were elected to the board of managers of the City Missionary Society of Boston at the recent annual meeting. Other Newton residents re-elected to the board are Mrs. John C. Campbell, Ellison G. Day, William E. Lowry, Thomas Weston, Mrs. Robert Whitehill, Quincy Wales, and Mrs. Edwin J. Morse of Waban. Rev. Earl W. Douglas of Eliot Church, Newton, executive secretary of the Society, was again re-elected.

The Society, the only Congregational religious social work agency in Boston, befriends troubled families and individuals, serves as a reference agency for Protestant church workers, provides religious leadership and interpretation for young people and adults, and sponsors summer camps and vacation church schools. Appointments included Mr. Day, the investment committee; Mr. Wales, the executive committee; Mrs. Earl W. Douglas, Mrs. Morse and Mrs. Whitehill, the Rosemary committee; Mrs. Luther Child, the camp committee and Miss Stratton and Rev. Foster, the daily vacation school committee.

Share Home Campagin Successful

The Newton Community Council reports that the "Share Your Home With a Child" campaign is receiving heartening response. People who before now have never thought of sharing their homes have come forward and are offering to take one or more children. Newspapers, churches, schools, libraries, clubs, and other civic groups are helping to spread information about the campaign, and radio stations are giving generously of their time.

The enthusiasm of prospective foster parents is contagious. One prospective foster father says: "I told my wife that we've been bringing up our nephews and nieces most of our lives, though we've never had children of our own. Now that we have none with us why not take some boys who really need us." A mother says that they have daughters, but no son, and she thinks that her husband has a right to have a boy. They hesitate to adopt a son, but they think it will be fun to have a boy in their home temporarily. Another "just loves little babies, the little the better!"

Once again Newton people are showing that, when there is a real community need, they always respond.

Charles B. Floyd Will Head Campaign Here

Charles B. Floyd, long prominent in civic affairs, has been named chairman of the 1945 War Fund for the Newton Red Cross. Mr. Floyd, who has successfully directed the last two war fund drives for the Newton Chapter, feels confident that the city will once more go over its goal in the campaign to raise $170,000.

"With increased activity in both the European and Pacific theatres of war, it is more important than ever that we continue to keep Red Cross at the side of every man and woman in our armed forces," said Mr. Floyd, "and I know that Newton will prove once more that the folks back home are giving wholehearted support to our boys and girls in the service."

Chairman Floyd has already begun to line up key people to head the divisions of his committee. Among his appointments are Henry T. Duncker, chairman Advance

"Know Your Public Health Nurse; Who She Is, What She Does"

January 26, 1945 has been named National Public Health Nursing Day.

The late Dr. William H. Welch of Johns Hopkins University once said that America's two greatest contributions to public health were the Panama Canal and the Public Health Nurse.

Mary S. Gardner, one of the founders of public health nursing in this country, says, "The principal trouble with the public health nurse is that there are too few of her."

The public health nurse is the interpreter of modern medical science in understandable language to the public. This makes the information practical and usable.

In Newton you may hear of the district nurse, the school nurse, the health department nurse, or the industrial nurse; they all fall under the classification of the Public Health Nurse and their function is to prevent disease, promote health and care for the sick in their homes.

Latest estimates show that there should be at least one public health nurse for every 2500 of the population. In Newton there are now eight nurses and a supervisor with the health department who also work in the schools; and nine staff nurses with four students, a supervisor and director with the district nursing association. A number of our larger industries also employ nurses.

This is not nearly enough to cover the public health nursing needs of our fast growing city, but doubtless little can be done about it until the post-war period. We have already lost a number of our good public health nurses to the military services and will, no doubt, lose more before it is over.

In spite of all our public health nurses have done toward building up our nation's good health capital so that we are now reaping important dividends, we cannot forget the shock received at knowing that half of the first three million young men examined for military service were rejected for physical reasons. Many of the defects found could have been prevented or corrected in infancy or childhood.

In Newton the District Nursing Association conducts weekly Well Baby Conferences with a pediatrician in charge in seven different

WHAT ABOUT THE RED CROSS?

What about the Red Cross? Here is what the service chiefs say about it: General Dwight D. Eisenhower says, "We simply couldn't get along without it. I consider the Red Cross an auxiliary of my army. They are doing a perfectly magnificent job in every way."

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz says, "Wherever the Stars and Stripes fly over the Pacific Islands, there also is found the symbol of the American Red Cross."

General Douglas MacArthur says, "The Red Cross has helped the American soldier in his hour of danger, it has sustained him in his hour of pain, it has comforted him in his hour of death."

General Alexander A. Vandegrift says, "I cannot too strongly voice my conviction that the service the Red Cross brings to my organization not only is vital to the well-being of each man, but makes for a better Marine."

These leaders know whereof they speak. And any G.I. Joe can tell you how the Red Cross is always on the job—day and night—to make life a little more like the life he left, back home in the U. S. A.

Money is needed—a great deal of it—to keep your Red Cross at G. I. Joe's side. Its need increases in proportion to the mounting casualty lists and the sizeable increase in the number of our men taken prisoner. On March 1 the Red Cross makes its annual appeal. The importance of that great humane organization is greater this year than ever before in its history. Here, 22 chapters in the Metropolitan area are uniting to raise the 1945 Red Cross War Fund for Greater Boston. Because of the amalgamation, volunteer workers will be able to appeal to every individual. When the appeal is made, between March 1 and March 26, every individual should give, and give all he can.

DIME POWER

It was a small stone that slew the giant, Goliath! Like that small stone, a little dime, dropped into a March of Dimes container, becomes a powerful weapon of destruction against another giant enemy—infantile paralysis.

The combined power of dimes, contributed each year by the American people to the March of Dimes, in celebration of the President's birthday, makes it possible for every infantile paralysis victim, regardless of age, race, creed or color, to receive the best medical care available. All over the country in areas invaded by paralysis last summer this money was on hand to provide early medical care which may mean the difference between a life of crippling or normal recovery.

These modest dimes are now bearing interest far beyond financial calculation. Remember this and contribute to the 1945 March of Dimes, January 14-31. Thomas V. Cleveland is the Newton chairman of the campaign and James B. Melcher of the Newton National Bank is treasurer.

Politics With Color

by P. W. C.

(The opinions expressed in this column are the writer's own, and do not necessarily reflect the opinions or policy of this newspaper—Editor's Note.)

The Wallace Appointment

It is a curious coincidence that two different commentators should have written so at variance on the same day. A prominent New York writer announced that the President was about to crack down on the PAC of the CIO and thus reward this outfit in the same way that he showed his appreciation of John L. Lewis after the 1936 election. Then our own Bill Cunningham comes to bat with a powerful blast at Henry A. Wallace and his chief backer, the CIO, pointing out the grave danger that Wallace, once in the White House, would become the unwilling tool of Sidney Hillman's organization, which will carry on the affairs of the United States government from that point forward.

Well, pay your money and take your choice. Frankly, I am inclined to trail along with Cunningham, despite the fact that his study of political matters is somewhat limited, at least from the standpoint of years of experience. Our local man may be a tyro in politics, but he has learned a great deal in a short space of time. Furthermore, he has many important contacts, such as Senator Brewster of Maine, whom he does not always quote, but who is, nevertheless, one of his most helpful informers of events on Capitol Hill.

To your columnist, the most disturbing factor involved in the Wallace appointment is the attitude taken by Mr. Roosevelt. At the same moment that he is stressing once again the vital necessity for national unity, he makes an appointment which reeks of partisanship and patronage. Good old Henry "came through" handsomely in the fourth-term campaign, and now wants the Commerce job and, bless his heart, he shall have it. Just like that. Never mind Jesse Jones, who has had a life-long training in business and finance. Throw him in the ashcan. After all, it was not some relative or close friend who caused all that trouble for F.D.R. down in Texas prior to the 1944 election. Remember that? The Texas delegation was split in two and the fourth-termers were up in arms. Eventually, of course, Jesse Jones would have to be punished for any part he had played in that affair. This looks like the pay-off, in reverse.

The only hope for the country lies in the flock of telegrams to U. S. Senators from every state in the union, demanding that the Senate turn down this appointment. Furthermore, there is the strong possibility that Congress may pass legislation, taking away the enormous financial powers of the Secretary of Commerce and leaving them in the hands of the R.F.C. (Reconstruction Finance Corporation). Frankly, the situation would not be so grave if the power to grant huge loans, to call them in, etc., were taken out of Wallace's hands. He could not do such a tremendous amount of harm to the country as an ordinary peace-time Secretary of Commerce. In any event, I recommend following the current debate in Congress very closely. It would do no harm to write or wire our Congressman, Hon. Christian A. Herter and also our two Senators, Hon. David I. Walsh and Hon. Leverett Saltonstall and give them your views.

Republican National Committee

It is hard to understand the viewpoint of those members of the Republican National Committee who object to organizing the work of the G.O.P. so that the opposition party will be functioning 365 days in the year instead of merely during a national campaign. For some curious reason, the Republican seem to feel that a vast sum of money, raised in a hurry and a few brief months of tireless work will be sufficient to put across their Presidential candidate. It hasn't worked since 1928 and there is no indication that it will work during the next few campaigns.

One interesting feature of the recent meeting was the appointment of a woman as secretary of the National Committee. This is a sign of the times. Now, if the G.O.P. would only make a handsome gesture to the younger element in the party and also give some concrete indication that it is not hostile to labor, the whole situation would improve. Of course, there is another factor which goes deeper. That is the quality of statesmanship to be found, or not, in the various Republican leaders in Congress. At a later date I propose to devote an entire column to this subject. At the moment, may I simply say that it is my sincere feeling that the party as a whole lacks genuine statesmanship. The G.O.P. will never get anywhere, nationally or locally, until it gets away from the habit of acting merely as a party of opposition. There are far too many big-wigs whose idea of good Republicanism is to take a sock at Mr. Roosevelt and block every move he tries to make. There are others who devote the bulk of their time to a daily castigations of the New Deal and all its works. How many Republicans can any of my readers name who spend much time endeavoring to develop a forward-looking, constructive program for their party? Don't all speak at once, please. There are a few men like Senator Burton of Ohio, our own new Senator, Leverett Saltonstall, Senator Vandenberg of Michigan (who has suddenly transformed himself)

The workmen are now engaged upon the exterior of St. Bernard's church and the rebuilding edifice will be dedicated in the near future.

The young people are planning for a toboggan slide on Station street, Newton Centre, and have asked for permission to establish one. Evidently they hope for some snow and ice.

The total number of marriages in 1889 was 235 as against 217 in 1888. The total number of deaths in 1889 was 323 and in 1888, 343.

The introduction of a police signal system in this city will necessitate the construction of a police stable and wagon house. The fire department committee has been authorized to purchase a lot of land, the cost not to exceed $2000. The site selected adjoins the City Hall on Cherry street, just beyond the Central police station. The new patrol wagon is being built by Mr. P. A. McVicar and the police signal system will soon be in operation.

At the meeting of the directors of the Cottage Hospital last week, a department for contagious diseases was referred to.

One of the largest land transfers in this city for a long time has been consummated in the sale of 500,000 square feet, situated on Commonwealth avenue, (Central boulevard). The property bought is in three lots, and was owned by Rose E. Rice, Harriet T. Rice and Robert Rodden. That owned by the first party is situated on the north side of the avenue, running through to Ward street, having large frontages on each street. The other two lots are on the avenue and Irving street, and all are finely situated, being near the proposed boulevard between Newton and Newton Centre.

The Newton Rubber Works Company has engaged an account of new employees on account of the increase of business.

25 Years Ago

Newton Graphic, January 23, 1920

At the annual meeting of the Newton Centre Unitarian Society held January 16, plans to remodel and rebuild the present church and Sunday school were presented. Perhaps the most important change of interest to the community as a whole is on the outside. The church will be brick veneered and the present lines considerably beautified. A new vestibule and steeple will be added to the church, all of these changes resulting in an edifice which will be a credit and a source of pride to the community.

The Peabody Home for Crippled Children, the pioneer institution of its kind in New England, has just purchased the Dr. Bigelow estate, known as Oak Hill, in Newton, and after additions and renovations are made will occupy its new home next spring. Oak Hill, which crowns Newton's highest hill, was the private estate of the late Dr. William Sturgis Bigelow, a famous Boston surgeon. It comprises a tract of more than 40 acres and covers not only the top of the hill, but the east, west and southwest slopes down to the main highways. Landscape gardening was one of Dr. Bigelow's hobbies, and he used to boast that his Oak Hill estate had every kind of tree that would grow in this climate. He spent a large sum of money, not only on the buildings, but also on the grounds and the roadways through it, and the place will be an ideal one for its new purposes.

Letter to Editor

To the Editor of the Newton Graphic:

I would like to express my opinion of the care of the streets of Newton, especially in Waban.

I have lived here for 25 years and do not hesitate to say that every winter, including this one, I have been obliged to call the Street Dept. to get sand, ploughing, etc. taken care of.

The finishing touch came this a. m. when I was told by a man at the Eliot St. yard that their orders were not to sand until a complaint was made. I am also told that one half of Pine Ridge road is taken care of by the Eliot yard and the other half by Auburndale. No sidewalks have been cleared except in front of the Library, so we are compelled to walk in the street and jump into a snow drift when a car comes. I am curious to know what we pay taxes for, and why it should be my job to tell the Street Dept. when and where to sand.

As I finish this article at 9:00 a. m., January 24th, sand is being spread in response to my telephone call.

Respectfully,
Mrs. John C. Codman.

An organization which started more than ten years ago, this group of generous and patriotic women (which includes among its charter members Mrs. Corabelle G. Ditty bags, shoulderettes, afghans and many knitted articles for comforting go to the Chelsea Naval Hospital, Chelsea Soldiers' Home, veterans' hospital at Bedford and Rutland, and include beautifully knitted socks. Xmas gift bags were distributed and baskets of food and money were donated Thanksgiving day and Xmas to many needy veterans' families.

A special project of this group, whose chairman is Mrs. Samuel A. Nash, is visiting and keeping up the morale of children in the Peabody Home for Crippled Children, the encouraging and inspiring them with the will to get well. Included among the donations at Xmas time was a crate of oranges, also gifts, candy and toys for the children.

At the meeting Thursday, the group were busy cutting and sewing nineteen pairs of attractive and durable drapes for the windows at the Newton Mothers' Rest Home under the direction of Mrs. Thompson Stone, chairman of sewing. A table loaded with beautifully knitted articles, ranging from many articles for hospitals to attractive children's knitted caps were ready for distribution. The group was happy to again greet Mrs. Willard A. Noyes of Lewiston, Maine, who was visiting her daughter, Mrs. Jones, hostess of the day.

The next regular meeting of Community Service will be held Thursday morning, February 1st, at 10 o'clock, when Mrs. Thompson Stone, chairman of music, will be hostess to the group at her home, 150 Washington street, Newton.

Record Blood Donor Registration For Newton Raytheon

"The Raytheon Manufacturing Company in Newton anticipates a bumper crop in Blood Donor registrations from 1945, if last month is any indication," says Edward N. Brown, that company. In a recent report to Mrs. C. Terry Collins, chairman of Blood Donor Service for Newton Red Cross, Mr. Brown stated that according to records available, Raytheon sent about 500 donors to the Boston Collection Center in the past year. "However," continued Mr. Brown, "during December 1944, 137 of our employees donated blood, a marked increase over the rate of previous months of the year. I would say that a conservative goal for our plant for 1945 will be 2500 pints of blood!"

In addition to the Military Red Cross Agency participation, Newton Raytheon has established a service called "Raytheon Walking Blood Bank". Its name reveals the attitude of the group, that is, warm help for each other or their immediate blood family when whole blood or plasma donations are needed at hospitals in greater Boston. During the past year, this group has accepted 24 appeals; four of which developed into "stand-by" and the remaining twenty demanding donor participation of 772 pints. This service has been adopted by many industrialists throughout the nation and Canada but Raytheon in Newton was the first industrial organization to have a pre-typled, catalogued pledge of service to be rendered free.

Promotions Announced By Sherman Paper Corp.

Sherman Paper Products Corporation of Newton Upper Falls, has announced the promotion of George H. Stucke of Wellesley Hills to the position of General Sales Manager in addition to his position of Sales Manager of the Industrial Division which he has held for some time. Mr. Stucke will be assisted by J. Arthur Hargis of Natick, and temporary advanced to the position of Sales Manager of the Display Division, and Mr. Phil E. Sheehan of Wellesley Hills, Sales Manager of the Specialties Division.

Mr. Stucke has had an active war-time role in the expansion of engineering service to aid war plants in solving their problems in packaging. As part of this service, many greaseproof, non-corrosive papers were developed and put to wide use by industry and the armed forces in protecting metal products against corrosion.

Reports which have come in from the world-wide fronts show that this new type of protective paper has been largely responsible for solving the problems of corrosion which ruined such a large percentage of war material at the start of the war.

Dining With Jane and Bill

Remember Jane's trip last week with Junior to the Pre-School Conference of the Newton Health Department where Junior was given his yearly physical examination?

Today while Jane is telling Bill what she learned, let's look over their shoulders.

Jane: "The nutritionist said we'd taken the first step in overcoming Junior's eating problem by having Junior examined by the doctor to be sure there was no physical reason for the trouble. Now that we know Junior is okay we can go ahead."

Here are the recommendations from the memo she gave me:

1. SET A GOOD EXAMPLE
Jane: Naturally, Bill, when you don't eat many vegetables and make remarks about them being nothing but "rabbit food," Junior is going to dislike them too, for he copies every move you make.
2. AVOID MAKING ISSUES—make the food problem unimportant in the eyes of the child.
Jane: I'd never thought of it in this way before, but as she said, if we fuss over Junior, it makes him all the more stubborn. But if he sees that he can't get a lot of attention by his performance, he usually stops.
3. AVOID USING FOOD AS A REWARD OR A PUNISHMENT.

Jane: This is another point she mentioned which may influence a child's likes or dislikes. When I told her that we don't let Junior have his dessert until he'd eaten all of his vegetables, she explained that this often makes dessert much more desirable and the vegetables all the more distasteful. It makes him think of vegetables as something we make him eat, instead of something he wants himself.

Bill: Yes, that sounds like common sense. I guess we'd better not stress the dessert so much.

4. GIVE SMALL PORTIONS OF FOOD.

Jane: I'm going to give Junior a smaller serving so that he'll say, "Is that all I get," instead of "Oh, gee, look at all that stuff I have to eat." Then he can ask for seconds.

5. MAKE MEAL TIME A HAPPY TIME.

Bill: That's where we've fallen down quite a bit. We have nagged Junior so much about his eating that he must hate mealtime. Let's talk about other things at the table besides Junior's food. If we do all these things, we can pretty well depend upon Junior's natural appetite to be a guide to the amount he can eat."

Legion Post Proposes Resolutions To Aid Veterans

At the meeting of Newton Post, American Legion, held at the War Memorial Building on Thursday evening, it was announced that two resolutions to aid veterans and their families which were proposed by the Newton Post, have been forwarded to national headquarters by the County Council for immediate action.

One proposal requests an investigation by Congress on the delay of gratuity payments to families of deceased veterans. The other requests that servicemen be given a minimum ration of 10 gallons of gasoline on their discharge to aid them in readjustment.

Theodore Lockwood was appointed a member and temporary chairman of a nomination committee to succeed Charles Kearney, who resigned on account of ill health. It was announced that James F. McEnaney, a member of the post, has been appointed Department public relations chairman.

A total of 540 paid up members, a January record for the post, was reported by W. Northrup Morse and John B. Foley, co-chairmen of membership. Foley also reported that William Davidson is at the Chelsea Soldiers' Home; that Harold Thomas is ill at St. Elizabeth Hospital, and that Merrill Brayton is ill at home. He also stated that Thomas Treddin was home from the hospital for a few days. Commander J. Edward Theriault reported that the post participated in funeral services for John P. Tierney and William Jordan.

Invitations were accepted to attend the installation of officers of the Newton Post, Jewish War Veterans on Jan. 22, and of the Newton Chapter, War Parents on Jan. 29. A letter was read from the "Share Your Home With a Child Committee" of Newton, signed by Dr. Homer Anderson, chairman, who is Americanization officer of the post. Letters of thanks were read from all veterans' hospitals in the area for the Christmas gifts of the post. It was reported that Lt. G. Henry Dath is ill in a hospital in California.

Commander Theriault revealed that the post has reserved two tables at the reception to the National commander to be held at the Hotel Statler on Feb. 3.

A report on the two-day child welfare conference held in Boston early this month was made by Mrs. Mildred Ely, child welfare officer of the post.

Rotary Club Hears Richard F. Wagner

The Newton Rotary Club was fortunate and thankful to Staff Witte for sponsoring Richard F. Wagner of the Connecticut Life Insurance Company as speaker at the meeting on Tuesday. Mr. Wagner himself a former Rotarian and past President of the Lancaster, Pennsylvania Club gave a stimulating and informative talk on "The Field of Estate Analysis."

The speaker brought out the fact that the life insurance companies are really "big" business with fifty billion dollars worth of assets behind them. Most people fail to realize the ravages of taxes and probate laws on estates at death. Life insurance is the one shining light which is "cash" in an estate and some of the older policies with their 3 1/2% interest are equal today to a 5% yield.

Christmas Seal Reminder Cards Being Mailed

"Reminder cards" are being mailed today by the Mass. Tuberculosis Association to recipients of all unanswered Christmas Seal letters, according to Mrs. M. K. Bryan, Seal Campaign chairman.

"The association has found," she said, "that in the rush of Christmas preparations, people often forget to send their contributions and appreciate a notice reminding them of their oversight."

Nursing Day -

villages of our city. Last year nearly 700 well babies under a year were admitted and cared for by the nurses. Babies are physically examined periodically by the doctor, their gain in weight is carefully watched, their diet is supervised and mothers are advised in their general care. Home visits are made by the nurses when necessary. At an early age they are started on an immunization program against whooping cough, diphtheria and smallpox. At the age of two the children are discharged to the Health Department Pre-school program.

The Health Department conducts Pre-school Conferences at City Hall twice a week. This is entirely an educational program with pediatrician, dental hygienist, nutritionist and Public Health nurse in attendance. Home visits are made as part of the follow-up program. This service is available to all residents of Newton.

When the child enters school the examining and advisory health program continues—under the Health Department and its public health nurses, as well as the teachers and other school personnel. One teacher-nurse is employed for high school work by the Department of Education.

The Health Department public health nurse carries on a fine educational program with the patients and families afflicted with tuberculosis and other communicable diseases.

Preventive measures and immunization against diphtheria and smallpox are constantly emphasized. An immunization clinic is held once a year.

Your district nurses are extremely busy these days giving nursing care under doctor's advice to old and young, rich and poor as well as advising and caring for expectant mothers. The charge for care is reasonable and, when necessary, free service is gladly given.

No day is long enough for the lady in blue with the little black bag in which to accomplish all there is to do; but she smiles as she works and her deft hands, her knowledge and her intelligent handling of difficult problems is building up a wall of defense that will be impenetrable in years to come against the ravages of disease and pain.

If you want to know more about your public health nurse, where she goes and what she does, call your health department at City Hall or phone the District Nursing Association—Bigelow 4880.

A Newtonite On Broadway

By Saul R. Exelbert S. 2-c

While white flakes of crystal sparkle in the moonlight on corners of bright, gay, Broadway lights—your reporter on liberty sees the street of charm again.

And what I see—are sailors returning from distant seas with mud and slush on Italian fronts have returned to a clean and welcome home. They also look up at a site somewhat different than what they had seen some months back.

Soldiers who knew what it was to taste the filth of New York stars and who crawled through mud and slush on Italian fronts have returned to a clean and welcome home. They also look up at a site somewhat different than what they had seen some months back.

This is Broadway—the lane of stars where the sons of daughters and husbands have come before they head back to rest, peace, and a family.

And it's up to Broadway to furnish these service men and women with the escape—the escape from "what they went thru" to that of entertainment and glamour.

Yet, even in this third year of war, the theatre, movies, USO's, canteens and radio can answer to that pointing question of Uncle Sam, "What are you doing to help win this war?"

The theatre is presenting the best in drama, comedy and musicals. Free performances, special performances, for those in the service. Actors and actresses give up their time to entertain for the boys at Halloran, St. Albans and nearby bases.

Broadway's best theatre offerings: "Anna Luccasta," "Bloomer Girl," "On the Town," and "Harvey." Yes, "Voice of the Turtle," "Oklahoma" and "One Touch of Venus" still pack them in; but there are dozens of new hits and the first four are the smash hits of all.

Times Square Movies: "Meet Me In St. Louis," "National Velvet," "To Have and Have Not" and "Winged Victory" are tops.

Next week something about these plays and movies and a scoop about Betty Fields of "Voice of the Turtle" (now replaced by Florence Rice while she recuperates from an illness). Betty is a Newton girl believe it or not.

Professor Hans Kohn, of the History and Economics Department of Smith College, addressed a large group of Newton teachers Wednesday, January 17th, as the climax of a series of programs in a Harvard-B. U. Extension Course, arranged by Mr. Horace Kidger, head of the Social Studies Department at Newton High School, and Mr. Mary Alice Mitchell, Director of Elementary Education.

Professor Kohn, a native of Czechoslovakia, brought an optimistic view of the progress of the war, well justified by taking a broad, all-inclusive survey of events of the past few years. Regarding post-war possibilities, he stressed the imperative of continued unity among the United Nations in rigidly adhering to a determination to prevent Germany from becoming sufficiently strong to wage another war. A challenging opportunity faces the teacher, Dr. Kohn pointed out, for it is within the power of the teacher to make a vital contribution to the post-war world by helping to train an intelligent and well-informed public to deal with the many other now but half-realized problems that will confront us.

Previous speakers in the course have been Professors Howard Wilson and Clyde Kohn, of Harvard; Professor Linwood Chase of B.U.; Dr. Roy Hatch of Phillips Exeter College; Mr. Charles Pelletier of Newton High School, who is working with the Governor's Committee on Racial and Religious Understanding; Mr. Frank Tanner of the Day Junior High School; and Mr. Kidger.

"Winged Victory" Proceeds Go to Army Relief Fund

"Winged Victory," the motion picture which opened at RKO Keith Memorial Theatre Jan. 17, has been hailed by 20th Century Fox as the "most important film on its production schedule for 1944-45" and full proceeds of its current Boston engagement will be turned over to the Army Relief Fund.

The theatre is standing the cost of putting on the show and numerous Greater Boston war plants are helping publicize the show. Proceeds of the stage show "Winged Victory" last spring also went to the Army Relief Fund.

The picture has been lauded by critics as one of the most realistic portrayals of the Army Air Forces to be developed. Gen. Henry H. Arnold, commanding general of the AAF, cooperated with Moss Hart, the author of the screen play.

Catholic Women's Guild Hold Poverty Party

A Poverty Party followed by a Pivot Bridge and Whist Party was held on Friday evening, January 19, by the Sacred Heart Branch No. 13, Massachusetts Catholic Women's Guild, in Odd Fellows Hall, Newton Highlands.

The first prize in the costume parade was won by Mrs. Eleanor Bohan, second prize by Mrs. Julia Sullivan with honorable mention awards to Mrs. Marie Jaggard, Mrs. Margaret Drennan, Mrs. Annie McGuirk and Mrs. Anne Looney. Miss Ella Foley won the bridge prize and whist prizes went to the following: Mrs. John Horrigan, Mrs. Patrick O'Connor, Mrs. Hattie Preble, Mrs. Paul DeRusha, Mrs. Timothy Galvin, Mrs. Mary Kelleher and Miss Mary King.

Newton High School News

A special assembly for boys was held on January 5. Mr. Green pointed out that the armed forces desire men who are high school graduates. All senior boys and candidates were urged to finish high school if they could. The procedure for procuring a postponement of induction was completely explained. Two navy men were on hand to acquaint those eligible for the draft with two special navy programs: the Radar training and air combat crew man training.

To qualify for radar training a boy must be in good physical condition and be either at least 17 years of age and have parental consent. Boys 18 to 26 are eligible if not yet called by the draft board. He must then pass the Eddy Aptitude Test for induction which determines acceptance.

A knowledge of mathematics and physics is essential. The combat air crew man requirements are easier in regard to education as no formal knowledge of physics or mathematics is required. However, the physical requirement is higher. The vision of the prospective trainee must be at least 18-20.

Postwar opportunities are possible in the fields of either aviation or electronics because of the excellent and varied knowledge offered by these programs.

As entertainment for the third meeting of the English Club, several of its members presented five scenes from popular plays of their respective periods varying from 400 B.C. to 1930 A.D. The acting was not as important as the interpretation of the lives and the costumes. The plays presented were as follows: "The Knights" by Shakespeare; "Twelfth Night" by Shakespeare; "The Rivals" by Sheridan; "Her Fatal Beauty," 1890, and "Three Men on a Horse" 1930.

On Tuesday, January 9, Salvy Cavichio introduced "America Farewell" by Mrs. Krawczyk, to his radio and Terrace Room, Hotel Statler, audiences. The lyricist was a Boston policeman, Lieutenant Benjamin R. Beer. Mrs. Krawczyk is well known to the girls of Newton High for her work in the department of physical education.

Ex-Polio Victims In Armed Forces

Battling for freedom today are men who had to win a tough, personal battle in order to get into the big push against Nazis and Japs.

These are former victims of infantile paralysis and their courage, forged on the rack of suffering in a life-or-death struggle with the Cripple, doubtless helped condition them for their present, day fight in global war.

They are veterans of Guadalcanal and other Pacific islands; crew members of Flying Fortresses in missions over many countries; they are with our two-ocean Navy and they are numbered among foot-slugging "GI Joes" grimly battling on all fronts.

Many letters from these boys are received by Chapters of The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, which aided them back to health with funds supplied through the March of Dimes in Celebration of the President's Birthday. Vividly recounting their war experiences, the boys invariably express the conviction that from their earlier battle with polio they acquired a reserve of courage and fortitude which many times has meant the difference between life and death under fire. The March of Dimes occurs this year January 14-31.

New Sallman Painting Depicts Theme of Crusade for Christ

CHICAGO — Warner Sallman, whose portrait of Christ has sold 4,500,000 copies, depicts here the support of millions of Christians to the determination of their Leader that there be no more war. Methodists are among those who are working for liberty and justice for all men, through their four-year, five-fold Crusade for Christ.

Posters of the Sallman painting, now appearing in motion, 4,000 Methodist churches across the nation, appeal for sacrificial contributions to the $25,000,000 Crusade relief and reconstruction fund, more than half of which will go for food, clothing and other aid for peoples of war devastated and occupied countries. Other phases of the Crusade for Christ call for support of cooperation among nations in the post-war world, renewed evangelism efforts, education for Christian stewardship and improvement of Sunday School attendance.

Speare, co-chairman of the War Service and Ways and Means Committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club have long had members selling War Bonds and Stamps at the local banks and in the schools. At one time a drive was made for enough Bonds to be credited to the Club to purchase an ambulance. The project was successfully completed and the committee voted funds for a plaque to mark the ambulance as a gift from the club. At the January meeting, the president of the club, Mrs. Victor H. Vaughan, read the following letter to the club members:

"Dec. 2, 1944
Germany
Dear Ladies:
I am writing this as I believe you would like to hear where the ambulance you so kindly donated to the army is. I can assure you it is where it is most needed and will do its share of the job.
I am very happy and I can say for the other driver too that we are honored to drive it.
It is one of the best running and driving ambulances we have ever driven and we will try to keep it that way as long as we have it.
The one before that we had was put out of battle by one of the few shells that fell on it a few days later. We received the one you have given and at a time when it was needed most.
Well I guess that is about all I hope rather I know this will make all you ladies happy to hear that the ambulance you donated to the Army is doing its job, so I will close for now.
Yours truly,
P.E.C. Arnold Sandberg

Newton Obituaries

Mrs. Charles H. Bennett

With the death of Mrs. Charles H. Bennett on Thursday, Jan. 18, a long familiar figure has gone from Newton Centre. Born Mabel Sweet, in Brunswick, Maine, she came to Newton Centre in 1893 as the wife of Dr. Richard Montague, minister of the Baptist Church. Dr. Montague died in 1895 and a few years later, Mrs. Montague married Mr. Charles H. Bennett of 921 Beacon street and that house was her home until her death. Mr. Bennett died about ten years ago.

Mrs. Bennett was a talented musician from early girlhood, a pupil of Ketchum in Portland, and a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music. For many years she studied in Boston with Arthur Foote. In Brunswick she was the organist of the Congregational Church and often played in the Bowdoin Chapel. Within a few years she returned to Brunswick for its 100th anniversary and again played her old organ. In Newton Centre she frequently played the organ at the Baptist Church and was the first person taught to play the chimes in the tower. In Armistice Day in 1918, she was chosen to play the chimes.

Mrs. Bennett was Mrs. Bennett's life. She taught not only piano but love of music to hundreds of children, in many cases to two generations in the same family. Dai Buell as a small child was one of her gifted pupils. In recent years when sight was failing, she sat for hours a day at her piano, playing from memory. The birds and their music were her great delight until she could no longer see to distinguish the strangely enough she could still see the stars and nightly communed with them. A poem by Lorraine Finley, found in her desk and read by Dr. Russell Boynton at the brief service on Saturday last, voiced her feeling about the stars. It is called "The Starry Symphony" and in imagination the poet hears the instruments that make up the orchestra playing among the constellations.

During the last year, Mrs. Bennett composed both music and words for a "Hymn of Peace," but unfortunately they were never put on paper. She thought constantly of "her boys" and received many letters from former pupils overseas.

A member of the Baptist Church as Mrs. Montague and of the First Church Congregational with Mr. Bennett, she had many friends in both parishes and felt that she belonged to both. Mrs. Bennett was a member of the Newton Centre S. Costello of Auburndale and Miss Anna S. Costello of Wellesley.

Funeral services were held from his home this morning. A solemn mass of requiem was celebrated in St. Bernard's Church at 9 o'clock. Burial was in Calvary cemetery, Waltham.
